Explosions, Sniping Continue in Beirut

U. S. Sends In Weapons To Lebanon

General Strike Is Losing Momentum

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Beirut was shaken again today by explosions, sniping from building tops and battles between police and rioters.

Seven bombs exploded during the night but calm generally prevailed until midmorning. Then rioters surged through the streets in demonstrations against the pro-Western government of President Camille Chamoun.

Blast Kills Several

An explosion rocked the Place de Canon in the heart of the business district and several persons were killed. Police quickly cordoned off the area and rounded up more than 100 people.

Snipers on the roofs of buildings fired at people in the streets and demonstrators fought to disrupt normal life in the city.

The United States is flying weapons to Lebanon, where disturbances have been under way for six days.

A general strike, which earlier choked off normal business activity in Beirut, lost momentum. Shops began to open again, even in the riot-ridden Moslem quarter where opposition leader Saeb Salam lives.

Opposition Lose Hand

Although authorities seemed to be gaining the upper hand throughout most of the country, Tripoli and other parts of north Lebanon still were dominated by opponents of Chamoun. In some areas, opposition political leaders were said to be losing control of rioters.

Lebanese armored cars brought eight Americans and two Cypriot girls to the capital from the Bekaa Valley, in east Lebanon.

Fleet Sales for Lebanon

Beirut was quieter after an estimated 20 persons were killed here Monday and Tuesday. U.S. Ambassador Robert McClintock said he had no intention of moving Americans out of the capital city. But the chartered ship Jackson Creek was sent to the north Lebanese port of Tripoli, where 53 Americans were being urged by U.S. diplomats to go to Beirut.

Several ships of the U.S. 6th Fleet suddenly sailed from Gibraltar toward Lebanon and British vessels also were steaming eastward in the Mediterranean.

Both Washington and London said the ships were part of a "routine NATO naval exercise" planned before rioting began Saturday.

To Handle Own Taxes Under Plan

All Work Taken Out of City Hall

The Kingston Board of Education voted unanimously Wednesday night to assume the performance of all services now handled for it by various departments of city government.

This includes the collection of taxes, the services of the engineer, corporation counsel, treasurer and assessor.

City Got $12,500

The board paid the city an annual fee of $12,500 for such services.

The board assumes its new responsibilities July 1, 1958.

It is reported that the board will employ a treasurer-collector —probably a civil service position.

The Service Bureau Corporation, Poughkeepsie, a subsidiary of IBM, will handle the printing of tax bills and other paper details.

Estimates Cost

Robert S. Macdonald, assistant superintendent of schools, said today that collection of taxes in the city of Kingston during the first year would cost about $2,000. Each subsequent year the cost will approximate $500. The initial cost is greater because of extra mechanical details involved in preparing the assessment rolls, punching the cards, etc.

After the first year the service will consist simply of the inclusion of new properties, plus certain normal amendments or changes to particular assessments.

No Initial Cost

Under consolidation the service will cost approximately $500 to handle the rural areas. The outlying districts have been using this service for several years, so there would be no initial cost.

Taxes have been due in the past August 31 and October 31.

Macdonald said these dates may be changed but that in all probability the two-payment system would be continued.

SACK U. S. LIBRARY IN TRIPOLI—The reading room of the U. S. Information Service library in Tripoli, Lebanon, is a shambles after anti-American mobs sacked and burned it. Two bombs were exploded near the American Embassy at Beirut. Neither bomb caused any casualties or damage. (NEA Radio-Telephoto)

Thousands On Hand At Airport

Eisenhower Leads Joyous Greeters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard Nixon returned to Washington at 11:57 a.m. (EDT) today from his riot-marred South American tour and was greeted by a roaring welcome from thousands of well-wishers.

President Eisenhower led a welcoming group that numbered thousands of diplomats, congressional leaders, politicians, college students, and just plain citizens.

Nixon's aircraft was flying a small American flag and the vice president's flag beside the pilot's and co-pilot's windows.

Pat Out First

As it rolled up beside the reception area the door of the plane was opened and the notables on hand, headed by Eisenhower, moved forward to the foot of the stairway to greet the returning vice president.

Pat Nixon, the vice president's wife, was first through the door with Nixon a step behind. The crowd yelled and waved.

It was the kind of greeting a returning hero would receive. Eisenhower had in effect given something of that touch to Nixon's arrival by praising in advance the calmness, fortitude and courage he said the vice president had shown in adversity.

Eisenhower was the first to greet the vice president.

Like Mob Scene

The President stood in the midst of the crush of people, in almost complete disregard of the usual security processes.

The receiving line turned into something approaching a mob scene.

He was stoned in Lima, Peru, last week when an anti United States demonstration got out of hand. And this week in Caracas, Venezuela, he was the target of violent mob attacks which some observers felt created a very grave danger to his personal safety.

GOP Booms Name

The movement to give him a popular expression at a news conference Wednesday—had obtained for Nixon about the kind of reception which some popular foreign king or president might get on coming here.

His trying adventures had been seized upon by two Republican members ot the House to try to start a boom for his 1960 nomination by the GOP for the presidency.

Says Urban Renewal Important to Nation

Only through the cooperation of the "three P's—Politicians, Planners, People — can we achieve our national goal—a decent home in a good neighborhood for every American family," Charles J. Horan, regional director of federal urban renewal in Region 1, Housing and Home Finance Agency, told the Men's Club of the Old Dutch Church at its final dinner meeting of the season Wednesday night.

He pointed out to some 100 members of the club and their guests that everyone agreed it is good for all citizens to raise both the standard of living and the actual level of living in America. He said that everyone supported the statement of national policy set forth in the Housing Act of 1949, "It is our goal that every American family shall have a decent home in a good neighborhood."

Suppies New President

Fred Suppies of 31 Washington Avenue was elected president of the club for 1958-59, succeeding Alexander Yosman. William Markle was elected vice-president. Re-elected as secretary was Schuyler Weidner of Hurley. Barry Blemker of Hurley was re-elected treasurer.

Lou Schafer, general secretary of the YMCA, was present to present a trophy to the basketball team of the Old Dutch Church, winner of the championship in the Protestant Church Basketball League sponsored by the YMCA.

Accepting the trophy for the team was Robert Hammell, cap-

Youth Goes Free In Seizure Case On Stang's Plea

A 19-year-old Shandaken youth, Charles Wesley Becker, who brought his 13-year-old sister, Diane, from Arlington, Va., last February to visit her dying mother, has been absolved of a charge of illegal seizure of the girl from her father, Alfred C. Becker.

Diane had gone to Arlington, Va., for the Christmas holidays and remained there. When her mother became ill the father was notified to send the girl back to be with her mother who was then critically ill in Benedictine Hospital.

Brings Sister to Mother

When the father declined to comply, Charles, who is one of a family of 10 children, drove to Virginia and brought his sister back to see her mother. It was stated at the time the father had declined to send the girl back to Ulster County and had informed the family if they wanted her to see her mother they must "come and get her."

Socialists Back Pflimlin in Move To Prevent Coup

PARIS (AP) — Premier Pierre Pflimlin's new government won Socialist aid today in the struggle against the spreading French military coup in Algeria.

Former Premier Guy Mollet, as leader of the Socialist party, agreed to become deputy premier.

Lacoste May Return

Mollet's decision is expected to be followed by a gesture to the French colonials and military in Algeria, who underscored their defiance of Paris by organizing additional "committees of public safety."

This gesture would be the reappointment of Robert Lacoste as minister for Algeria. Although a Socialist, he is acceptable to Frenchmen in Algeria demanding no compromise in the battle to stamp out the 3½-year-old Algerian nationalist rebellion.

Defense Minister Pierre de Chevigne took new measures against the military in Algeria and Rightist-Communist troublemakers at home.

Creditor Wants Mill Reopened

DiCandia Desires To Pay Anjopa Bills

Joseph W. Burns of New York City was named trustee in bankruptcy for Anjopa Paper Manufacturing Company, Inc., of Napanoch by Referee in Bankruptcy Normington Schofeld of Poughkeepsie at a hearing held at the Ulster County court house Wednesday afternoon. Burns had been serving as receiver in bankruptcy, under appointment by Federal Judge Gregory Noonan of New York.

Joseph DiCandia, former president and operator of the mills who is now serving a three-year sentence for misuse of bank loans and overdrafts at the defunct Home National Bank of Ellenville, appeared before the proceeding and was examined as to his activities in connection with the paper company and its financial connections with the William R. Rose fiasco.

FDIC Mortgage Attacked

Rose, who pleaded guilty of misappropriation of over $1,250,000 of the bank funds, is serving a five year prison term imposed in Federal court on December 10, 1957, under a plea of guilty to 30 counts in an indictment.

DiCandia, during the investigation of the defunct Home National Bank of Ellenville, executed a mortgage totaling about $900,000 to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, a Federal agency which insures depositors against loss, and this mortgage was attacked at the bankruptcy hearing Wednesday on the grounds it had granted the FDIC preference over other creditors.

Wants to 'Pay in Full'

DiCandia, during his examination before Referee in Bankruptcy Schofeld, stated he desired to return to Napanoch and again take over management of the paper mills and "pay in full" all of his creditors.

Port Ewen Fire Damages Barn, Two Homes Saved

A large two-story frame barn with an attached one-story shed at the corner of Doris and Green streets, Port Ewen, was heavily damaged by fire of undetermined origin early this morning.

There were several rooms in the two-story section which had been fixed up as living quarters but they were unoccupied. This section of the 100-foot-long building was the least damaged of the entire structure.

The property is reportedly owned by Nicholas Schwartz.

Two Houses Saved

A one-story ranch-style home owned by William Ferguson, located not more than 20 feet from the barn, and a new model bungalow on the corner were both saved by volunteer firemen of the Port Ewen Fire Department who kept them wet with hoses.

The Ferguson home reportedly got a "little scorching" along the trimming at the eaves. It is constructed of brick and has asbestos shingles.

Neighbors reportedly heard a couple of explosions about 1:30

Ives' Decision May Mean Hall-Rockefeller Ticket

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Sen. Irving M. Ives' decision to retire opened up a choice spot on the Republican state ticket today that could serve to prevent a wild scramble for the nomination for governor.

Ives' announcement Wednesday that he was withdrawing because of ill health promptly touched off talk on Capitol Hill that the GOP eventually would file a ticket featuring both Leonard Hall and Nelson Rockefeller.

Foremost Contenders

These two men have been regarded as the foremost contenders in behind-the-scenes maneuvering for the gubernatorial nomination.

Veteran observers and GOP insiders at the Capitol speculated that some kind of agreement now would be made to divide the two top spots between them, probably with Hall going for governor and Rockefeller for the Senate.

Other Republican hopefuls were still very much in the picture, however, including Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney, Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck and Rep. Kenneth B. Keating.

All are keenly interested in the gubernatorial nomination and are not likely to let it go without a struggle.

Keating also has been mentioned as a likely Senate candidate in the event Ives bowed out.

His support stems from Republicans who believe the Senate seat should remain upstate, since the other U. S. senator, Jacob K. Javits, is from New York City. Ives is from Norwich.

Rockefeller, although identified with New York City, could qualify as an upstater off a residence in Westchester County. Hall lives in Oyster Bay, on Long Island.

Neither Mahoney, who lives in Commercial Use of Armory Is Banned in Future, Avis Says

Rigid enforcement of regulations will prevent future use of the New York State armory, Manor Avenue, for commercial purposes, Attorney Joseph Avis, chairman of the local zoning board revealed today.

Avis said a recent letter from Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, who heads the New York State National Guard, indicates that leasing of the armory to a furniture company last month was an oversight and he promised "careful scrutiny" of all future applications.

Levine Fears Precedent

Morton Levine, of 130 Roosevelt Avenue, at the April zoning board meeting protested use of the armory for the promotion or gain of private enterprise and he asked the board to rule on the merits of his objections.

Levine indicated that he was not objecting specifically to use of the building by Union Fern Inc., a furniture house, which

Decorated Infantryman To Select Korea Hero

HONOLULU (AP)—A decorated infantryman of the Korean War singles out for national tribute today a comrade-in-arms who fell unknown in that far off fighting.

In a simple ceremony, M-Sgt. Ned Lyle will place a wreath of Hawaiian flowers on the casket of one of four unidentified dead of the Korean conflict.

Going to Arlington

The serviceman Lyle selects will be flown to Arlington National Cemetery for burial beside the Unknown Soldiers of two world wars.

The four unknowns, representing the four branches of the U. S. armed services, were chosen previously from among 853 unidentified dead of the Korean War interred here.

These remains were assembled from various cemeteries in Korea. The final group was brought here in 1956.

14,000 on 'Hill'

Site of the selection ceremony is the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific, a grass-covered expanse laid out on the floor of an ancient volcano crater. The site is known to Hawaiians as Puowaina or "Hill of Sacrifice." Some 14,000 military dead are buried there.

Christiana, pastor of Port Ewen Reformed, representing the Port Ewen Businessmen's Association.

The Park Commissioner's report by Bonville included a program to install drainage at Ross Park to eliminate accumulative water. They propose to establish a picnic area at the northwest section of the park and contemplate the formation of a ice skating rink for use this winter.

Surrogate Judge Charles H. Gaffney, attorney for the town, reported that an ordinance enforcing stop signs on town roads was being drafted.

Soviet Launches Third Moon, Largest of All Sputniks Yet

By HAROLD MILKS

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today launched its third and largest Sputnik, an 11.9-foot cone weighing nearly a ton and a half.

A special announcement by Tass, official Soviet news agency, said the new earth satellite, fired in connection with the Soviet International Geophysical Year program, was jammed with apparatus and instruments for probing the secrets of outer space.

The announcement gave no indication that the latest satellite carried a living passenger, a companion to the dog Laika which went up and died with Sputnik II.

Instead it listed the numerous items of equipment with which it said the new Sputnik would report on the upper layers of the earth's atmosphere as "a contribution of Soviet scientists to world science."

The announcement gave no indication of the launching power of the new Sputnik nor the location of his launching site.

It reported the Sputnik was orbiting normally at the rate of one circuit of the earth every 106 min-

Bus Crash Kills Two

DENISON, Tex. (AP)—A Greyhound bus skidded off a rain-slick highway early today, hit a tree and a power pole and split open. A young mother and her child were electrocuted. Four passengers were injured.

A passenger Irvine Echola of Kansas City, Mo., said the bus driver apparently swerved to miss an auto and plunged off the road.

Mrs. Shirley Stith, about 21, of Fort Worth, and her daughter, Melanie Jane, about 1½, were killed. Echola said the baby fell out of a six-foot gap in the side of the bus. When the mother jumped out to get her, he said, they were electrocuted.

Four persons were treated at a hospital in this north Texas city.

"Jenny" Re-enacts Flight

WASHINGTON (AP)—An authentic 1918 "Flying Jenny" re-enacted the first U. S. Air mail flight today to top widespread observance of the 40th anniversary of air mail service in this country.

Leon D. (Windy) Smith, who says only he is "over 60," was called back to an old, familiar job in manning the controls of the "Jenny" for a memorial flight from Washington to Philadelphia to New York City.

Smith was one of the original pilots on this run when the post office department established the first airborne postal deliveries between these cities on May 15, 1918. He now operates a private flying school at Pine City, N. Y.

Gunmen Get $476, Caught at Roadblock

NASSAU, N. Y. (AP)—Two gunmen took $476 from a Western Union office in Pittsfield, Mass., Wednesday night and were caught less than an hour later at a roadblock here, State Police reported.

During the holdup, one man shot the other accidentally in the left leg, troopers said.

They identified the pair as Lawrence E. Alcott, 28, of Akron, Ohio, and Harold S. Bowers, 31, of Huntington, Ind. Bowers was wounded.

State Police said the two walked into the Western Union office, asked the night manager for a money order, then stuck a gun in his back.

The manager, Stanley Moore, 34, of Pittsfield, was bound with his belt and tie and forced to lie face down between two rows of filing cabinets.

Mayor Best Candidate . . . But

Harriman Cool to Wagner Name on '58 State Ticket

By CHARLES DUMAS

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—No one will verify this, but all signs indicate Gov. Harriman does not want New York's Mayor Robert F. Wagner on the state ticket with him next fall.

A year ago, the Democratic mayor was regarded as a shoo-in for the U. S. Senate nomination, just as Harriman is a cinch to be nominated for a second term as governor.

Has Warm Support

There's no doubt that Wagner wants to run—very much. He has warm support from many Democratic county chairmen. Even Harriman concedes he is the best known among potential candidates.

However, as the time approaches for choosing a nominee, the talk from the Harriman camp is of almost everyone but Wagner—of such lesser lights as Thomas K. Finletter, Frank S. Hogan and Thomas E. Murray.

Ave Won't Admit It

Of course, the governor cannot be expected to admit this. But straws in the political winds, leaks from closed-door conferences and the attitude of persons close to the governor have led veteran observers to conclude there is plenty of substance to the reports.

Why would Harriman want to sidetrack Wagner?

On the surface, it would not seem to make sense. Bucking the Eisenhower tide in 1956, Wagner ran half a million votes ahead of the Democratic ticket in his first try for the Senate. Last year, he rolled up a million-vote plurality in winning re-election as mayor.

Potentially, he would be a big vote-getter this year.

But that would seem to be precisely one of the reasons why Harriman might prefer to have Wagner sit this one out.

Could Be Embarrassing

If, as many folks say, Harriman wants to make another try for the presidency, he will want to make a big splash in his home state next November. It would be embarrassing indeed if Wagner not Harriman, led the Democratic state ticket.

Reason number two is more apparent. Wagner's city administration has been involved in a series of scandals in recent months. Republicans might try to tar the entire state ticket with the city's troubles.

In short, the story is that Harriman wants neither Wagner's competition nor his problems.

Harriman's public position is that he's taking no sides in the choice of a Senate nominee. This attitude in itself is in marked contrast to 1956, when he helped pressure Wagner into running.

Encourages Others

It has encouraged other potential candidates.

Finletter, a former Air Force secretary, picked up public endorsements last week from ex-Sen. Herbert Lehman and from Adlai Stevenson.

In 1956, both these men prevailed upon a reluctant Wagner to run.

Now, when Wagner is willing, they boost Finletter. The talk is that Harriman is promoting Finletter, too.

If Wagner does not have Harriman's blessing now, it appears he still has the powerful—and perhaps decisive—support of Carmine DeSapio, the Tammany Hall leader.

Draft May Be Answer

DeSapio, who has been guiding Wagner's political career, began talking a few weeks ago about a draft-Wagner movement.

A draft is about the only way Wagner could get the nomination. He cannot seek it himself because he promised he would serve his full, four-year term if re-elected as mayor.

While DeSapio and Harriman seem to be split over Wagner, the chances are they will iron out any differences behind closed doors well before the party's nominating convention, in August.

It could be that Harriman will prevail. On the other hand, DeSapio might persuade him—or he might even decide himself—that Wagner should be on the ticket.

If that's the case then, of course, Harriman will say he wanted Wagner all along. That's politics.

A DANGEROUS SLOGAN

Just before World War 1 the British ministry headed by Herbert Asquith was in heavy water. A number of difficult alternatives confronted the government, and the opposition kept demanding, "What do you propose to do?" Asquith's invariable reply was, "Wait and see."

This was meant as a mild taunt, equivalent to "Don't you wish you knew?" It was unfortunately phrased, and was interpreted as a statement that Asquith did not know his future course, but was waiting for something to turn up. Ever since then, prudent heads of governments have been cautious about replying too vaguely to questions as to future action.

While President Eisenhower's advisers may not be up on British political history, they are practical enough to recognize the danger of seeming in doubt as to what ought to be done. There is always the danger that the opposition may seize the initiative, and gain the votes of the many who think that something drastic should be done about a situation.

A case in point is the recession. However excellent the administration's reasons may be for choosing to await an upturn, it ought to be careful not to merit the criticism that it simply doesn't know what to do. "Wait and see," as Asquith's experience proved, is a dangerous slogan for any party.

FREAK WEATHER

When rain falls on nine out of 12 days, as it did recently in some parts of the United States, it ceases to please even those who say: "I love the rain." It becomes a kind of siege.

Of course, these days the worriers cry "atom bomb" when any weather phenomenon lasts more than two days. But anybody willing to dig into weather records, or old memories, can find plenty of staggering parallels with even the worst that hits us in this age.

Rain? Probably cities in the well-watered sectors of the land each have their vivid recollections. Let's take just one out of the hat. In Chicago, in a year in the late 1930's, it rained on 24 out of September's 30 days. And no one had ever heard of the atom bomb.

Fact is, weather in big bunches sort of goes with America's size. A European, weary of that persistent dripping sound, said: "You Americans don't have weather. You have catastrophes."

The next time one of those fellows that go into rhapsodies about the beautiful dandelion stops by, we're going to hand him our dandelion digger and say, "Here, help yourself."

SHIFTING THE QUESTION

They call it juvenile delinquency. The term covers a multitude of sins, ranging from horseplay to murder. The statistical record piles up: So many arrests of teenagers for car theft, so many for beatings, for robbery, for murder. And all over the nation, adults cry out: "Why don't they do something!"

Those who utter this wail might try the useful trick of turning around the outward-directed complaint and asking, instead: "Why don't I do something?" This question, asked with humble sincerity and followed by appropriate action, may be at least a partial clue to solution of the growing juvenile delinquency problem.

The trouble is that too many adults are inclined to think of the problem in terms of statistics. They think of it as something to be dealt with by schools, by police, by correctional agencies. Those can do part of the job. But prevention of juvenile delinquency is like charity. It begins at home.

It is rumored that one of the new tranquilizers is so effective its maker supplies a pin with each package so that users can prick themselves into alertness at moments of crisis.

The U. S. commissioner of social security declares the program is sound and had never been in the red. This indicates that oldsters have no reason to feel blue.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

"CAST THE FIRST STONE"

It is not usual for a sitting judge to write a sociological study which knocks the props from under the law which he is called upon to enforce, but that is precisely what Judge John M. Murtagh, Chief Magistrate of New York City, does in his book, "Cast the First Stone," which he wrote with Sara Harris and which deals with the oldest of subjects, prostitution.

After reading this study, I could not but be surprised that it did not create more of a sensation when it first appeared because the study of the Negro and Cuban Sweet Daddies who keep stables of girls, white, sepia, brown, any kind that can bring in the dough, is a startling account of the voluntary acceptance of enslavement. Some of the "cows," as they are called in their business, are college graduates of good families. There are no class lines in this business, except that an outlaw is one who is not working for a Sweet Daddy.

This is a side of delinquency which every family always believes can only happen to others, but it does happen in palaces as well as hovels. Few men could have had more direct dealings with this problem than Judge Murtagh, for he sits on the bench, as these gals are brought in time after time, and he has studied their Sweet Daddies, for whom they work, often voluntarily calling the other creatures, "wives-in-law." Thus a Sweet Daddy is provided with a harem of slaves whom he mulcts and beats and throws away at whim. It is an amazing world of voluntary servitude in a free society.

This is what a magistrate sees when they come before him:

". . . There are plenty of young girls, including teen-agers, among them, but they are girls who have never learned to value either their youth or themselves. The older ones are mostly homely and dirty, with messy hair and bad complexions. Some of them look as if they had not bathed or changed their clothes in weeks."

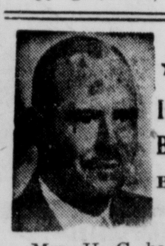

But there are always men who will pay to go with these creatures that once were women and there are other men who own them and who live on them. And the law always fails in its effort to put an end to prostitution, not because there is money in it, but apparently because there is perverseness and perversion in the character of humans. The girls who support these men and who are of their stable hardly make anything for their services and they know that they can walk away from these men to the nearest police station, but they prefer to stay.

Judge Murtagh does not mince matters at all. He describes conditions in the large metropolis as they are and one has to recognize that this is not a free-lance writer making copy but a responsible and respected judge whose words must be acknowledged not only because of the office he holds but because he is a man of probity who has elevated his court since he became its head.

It is difficult to convince parents to read such a book even in modern times when everybody is supposed to be so progressive and open-minded. Nevertheless, it is the very nature of this era which requires parents to be more vigilant than they are accustomed to being. The undisciplined, secular type of education now in vogue in the United States cannot explain away as progressive the use of marihuana and heroin by school children, which so often leads girls, of so-called good families, into prostitution and eventually slavery. One cannot read this book without wondering why society tolerates the slavery.

The only criticism I have heard of Judge Murtagh's study is, "Why should he have written such a book?" He has probably ruined his chances for political advancement which undoubtedly matters little to him. What does matter is that he has torn away the veil from a side of large-city life which good citizens prefer not to see, never realizing that it has little to do with poverty or drunkenness or other environmental conditions. Prostitution, as it has now developed, would appear to be a mental disease, not of lust but of despair. The Sweet Daddies are now mostly Negroes and Cubans who own false Puerto Rican certificates.

If Drugs Fail, Surgery May Be Required in Mastoiditis

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Mrs. H. C. has written that her 16-year-old son has been having a great deal of trouble from chronic mastoid infection. She asks whether this should be removed and whether it is a serious operation. So far, he has been treated with antibiotics, but without complete cure.

This is an interesting question. The mastoid process is a hard bony protuberance lying back of the earlobe. It is not solid bone, but is made up of small pockets which normally contain air and are called mastoid cells.

Sometimes—particularly following a serious ear infection—these cells may become infected with germs. Mastoiditis is then said to be present.

Until the discovery of the sulfa preparations and antibiotics, mastoiditis was extremely common. Indeed, in the big hospitals it was a rare day when one or more operations for mastoiditis was not scheduled.

The operation varied from simple cutting, in order to drain off pus, to the more common type of rather serious removal of the infected cells and surrounding bone tissue.

With the development of the drugs mentioned, mastoiditis—or at least operations for it—almost disappeared. Treatment of early ear infections resulted in stopping infection before it had a chance to involve the mastoid cells.

Now I understand from some of my friends that mastoiditis is again becoming more frequent.

When mastoiditis comes on acutely the symptoms are related largely to pressure of the infection and pus within the air cells. The area back of the ear and the bony process become red and swollen, and pressure on the bone is quite painful.

As in other infections, chills and fever often appear. Indeed, the fever may go quite high. The hearing is also somewhat impaired.

At the time when the mastoid cells become involved, the amount of drainage of pus from the ear (which is usually present earlier) tends to become more profuse. An X-ray picture is often helpful in diagnosing mastoiditis.

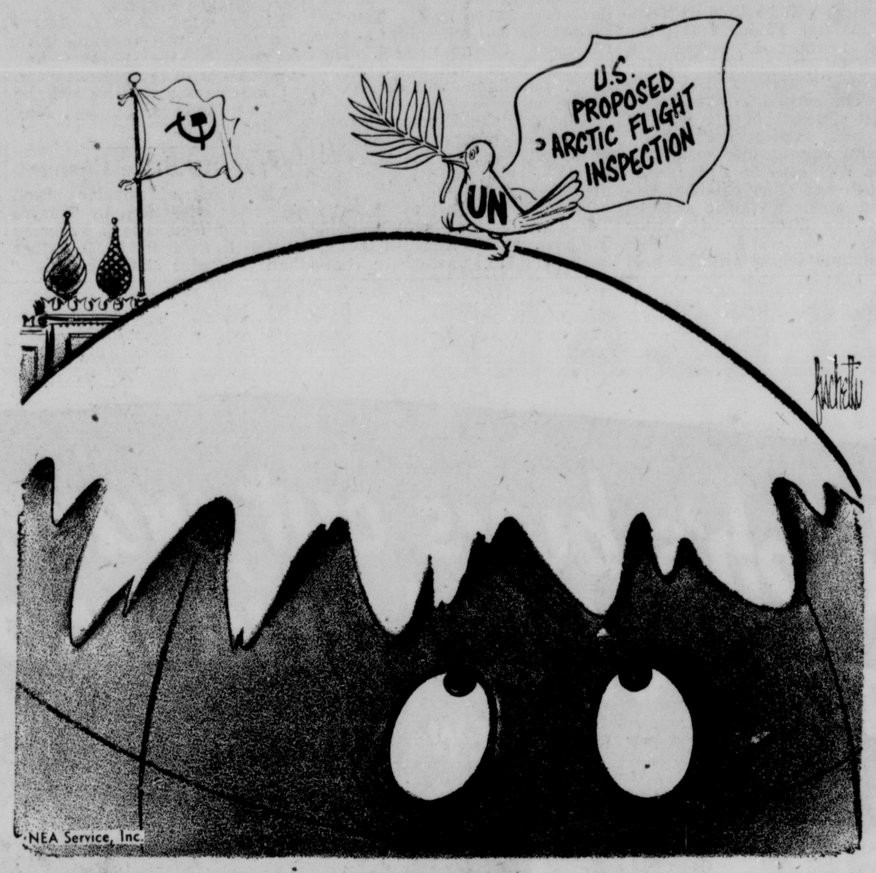

Prevention is still the objective. Almost certainly many infections of the middle ear can be treated with the sulfa preparations or antibiotics so that the mastoid never does became seriously inflamed.

In addition to drug treatment, early and complete drainage from the middle ear is recognized as a preventive measure. The latter is usually accomplished by making a small cut in the drum membrane to allow the escape of pus.

Operation is not generally performed when the inflammation is acute. After it has quieted down—or become chronic—there are several surgical procedures used. These depend on the extent, duration and severity of the mastoiditis.

In the case of Mrs. H. C.'s son an operation would have to be considered since other measures have failed.

Washington News

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Getting President Eisenhower's requested five-year extension of the reciprocal trade agreements program through the House of Representatives faces two political hurdles.

The first is in the Ways and Means Committee. Chairman Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.) wants to report out a bill which he is certain can pass. This opens the way for compromises.

Second is the Rules Committee. The problem here is to get the bill cleared for action on the House floor under a closed rule. This would prohibit amendments which might completely change the character of the legislation.

Several House Rules Committee members who are known to be in favor of trade agreements oppose "gag" rule procedure. They believe that all bills should be open to amendment in general floor debate before votes are taken on final passage.

HOW THE HOUSE will vote this year involves guessing. Democratic sentiment has been slowly drifting away from the party's traditional support of reciprocal trade agreements.

This is one result of the South's becoming more industrialized. Its products are more and more entering into competition with imports from foreign countries.

On the other hand, the GOP platform and administration now support trade agreements. And GOP congressmen from districts whose industries carry on a heavy export business have been weaned over to lower tariffs. Only in this way can U. S. imports be increased to pay for greater exports.

ANALYZING CURRENT opposition to the program as revealed in this year's Ways and Means hearings on the bill to extend trade agreements, Committee for a National Trade Policy finds 106 witnesses for the bill, 61 against it. Of 251 written statements submitted, 191 were for the program, 60 opposed.

This isn't too meaningful. It could simply show proponents are now better organized to lobby than opponents.

But it is noted that some of the witnesses who in past years have been vehement against renewal of the trade agreements program, this year turned up missing.

Among them were important chemical, clock, jewelry, lace underwear, optical goods and electrical equipment industries.

THE MAJOR AREAS of opposition, in which American industries do feel the pinch of foreign competition against their products, are listed as follows:

Heavy electrical equipment industry in New England, New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Wisconsin. Its exports were 10 times imports last year.

Hardwood plywood industry, widely dispersed in the South, Great Lakes states and on the Pacific coast. It is dependent on Philippine hardwood "skins" from Japan.

Machine tool makers in Connecticut and Ohio. Exports were about five times imports last year.

Textile industry in New England and South. Competition is principally from Japanese ginghams and velveteens.

Small industries in the northeastern United States, including glassware, pottery and notions manufacturers.

The principal opposition this year comes from raw materials rather than finished manufacturers.

Chemical producers, now widely dispersed throughout the U. S., were once given tariff protection as infant industries. But their exports are now five times the imports.

The U. S. coal industry in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Illinois and Alabama and the independent oil producers of the southwestern states have been campaigning vigorously for import quotas against foreign oil imports. Atlantic coast fuel oil imports are principal competition.

Nearly all copper, lead and zinc mines are in the 22 western states. They are hurt principally now by recession declines in world market prices.

THE EISENHOWER administration is trying to quiet demands for import quotas by proposals to end the current suspension of a two-cents-a-pound tariff on copper imports and by a new subsidy program for U. S. lead and zinc producers.

Nixon Attack in Venezuela Called Part of Soviet Plot

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASIHNGTON — A different kind of "World War 3" than has been heretofore visualized is sweeping four continents—South America, Asia, Europe and Africa.

The Communist has supplied ammunition for the fighting in the Middle East in Indonesia and in Algeria. They have taken over Egypt and Syria and are threatening to take Lebanon. They now have stirred up spectacular disorders in Latin America.

The Soviet government is taking advantage of the paralysis of fear and the pschology of self-restraint which prevails in the free world. The net result is that a sort of international anarchy is developing in which small countries as well as big ones are either the victims of revolts engineered by Moscow or parliamentary frustration—as in France—brought about by active and aggressive Communist parties.

Awed by Subversion

Most of the countries of the free world are not dealing firmly with subversion. Full political rights and privileges are, for instance, granted to organizations which ostensibly are political parties but which have as their basic aim the overthrow of free governments everywhere.

In Venezuela, for example, where Vice-President Nixon and the American flag were subjected to indignities, there is a Communist sympathizer at the head of the Cabinet Department which is supposed to direct the police to preserve law and order. The Venezuelan anti-Communists have openly accused him of Communist sympathies.

The whole story of what is happening inside Venezuela has not yet been exposed. A dictator was expelled, and a military junta that included a Communist sympathizer assumed governmental power. It is significant that, after Vice-President Nixon was stoned and hostile demonstrations occurred, the Venzuelan newspapers carried articles telling what happened but for some reason omitted editorial comment. Did this mean that the press was afraid to denounce the disgraceful conduct of the Communists and the Communist sympathizers?

Moscow Blamed

There is nothing to be gained by taking any reprisals against the people of Venezuela or of any other Latin American country where demonstrations hostile to the Vice-President of the United States occurred. The answer to the problem isn't in Venezuela or in Lebanon, where outspoken enmity to the United States has lately been stimulated by the Communists. The answer is to be found in only one place—Moscow—where the orders to stir up the trouble are issued.

What can the United States do in the circumstances? Nobody, of course, wants a nuclear war, and yet the United States cannot engage in appeasement or assume an attitude of indifference. Such a policy usually breeds the very incidents that lead to a shooting war.

The alternative is for the United States government to speak out frankly, and fearlessly against the Communist conspiracy which is boldly defying the free world. The Moscow government should be warned that it will be held accountable by free men everywhere for its tactics in promoting internal disorders in other countries and in its planed insults to governments that stand for individual freedom.

Exposure Needed

An essential part of any countermove is full exposure of the wrongdoing of the Moscow government. There is plenty of information — available through official sources—concerning the infiltration that has been steadily carried on by the Soviet government in Latin America and in the Middle East. There is no need to use military force, especially since the great and influential weapons or moral force are available.

For one thing, the United States could announce that it sees little reason now to consider any plan for participation in "summit" meetings with the head of a government that utters promises of peace but clandestinely engages in subversion throughout the world.

The United States could, if it wished to act alone, announce that it is considering a severance of diplomatic relations with the Moscow government until such time as it is assured that hostile acts aimed at the United States government are terminated.

There is also the possibility that the United Nations General Assembly might be convened in special session to consider the expulsion of the Soviet government from that body on the ground that it has violated the letter and the spirit of the United Nations charter, which binds the member nations to maintain a "peace-loving" attitude toward one another. Surely the presence of the United Nations of a nation engaged in a war of subversion against the free nations warrants in itself action of some kind.

All these measures look toward the use of reason rather than military force. The adoption of such an approach would convinced the peoples of the whole world—including the peoples behind the Iron Curtain—that they can be assured of an era of peace only if the disturbers of the peace are effectively restrained. For these autocratic governments surely cannot expect to enjoy the benefits of trade or diplomatic intercourse if they carry on at the same time a world-wide war of subversion against peaceful nations.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Sorrow comes in time to many fine old families. But the tragedy that has befallen Louis and Elaine Lorillard of Newport is indeed almost unbearable.

Their only two children—Pierre, 8, and Didi, 11—are rock 'n' roll fans.

No Luck Yet

"We are doing our best to convert them," said Elaine bravely, "but so far we have had no luck."

What makes her plight even more ironic is that she and her husband, an agile offshoot from the proud old Lorillard tobacco tree, are perhaps America's leading missionaries for a pre-rock 'n' roll type of music—the one known as jazz.

In fact they are famous for having brought jazz to Newport, the sedate Rhode Island seaside resort where they dwell in a mansion so large Mrs. Lorillard never has found enough free time to count its rooms.

Until 1954 the most notable music in Newport was the soft slap of surf on sand, the genteel murmuring of hardening arteries and the vague noises of dear old ladies reading the novels of Henry James aloud to cure their insomnia.

Barriers Go Up

But in that year the Lorillards staged the first of a series of annual jazz festivals there.

The barriers of the Old Guard—their lorgnettes — were raised at once in an icy wall against the invasion.

"The resentment wasn't so much against the music, as the fact the town was overrun all at once by 3,000 visitors," said Elaine. "But the tradespeople were happy.

"We were boycotted for a time socially, in a very subtle way. I think that's all over now, but frankly I don't care."

The truth is that many of the Old Guard have swung the other way. Many are looking forward to the fifth jazz festival this summer, at which 60,000 visitors are expected.

Should Be Exciting

It will be featured by a specially created international youth band, made up of young jazz musicians from 17 foreign countries, including two from behind the Iron Curtain. Its concert will be recorded by the Voice of America and broadcast overseas.

"This should be very exciting," said Mrs. Lorillard. "To many Europeans jazz is the only form of culture America has produced."

Elaine, a pretty blonde who wears blue sunglasses—what other color would be suitable in Newport — and a diamond ring that would blind an owl at midnight is now known by the trumpet-tooting set as "the First Lady of Jazz."

It was a common interest in this form of music that sparked the romance of Elaine and Lorillard. They met in Europe during World War II. She was a Red Cross worker. He was a major.

At Arctic Village in the far north section of Alaska in a radio shack used to check radio beams and guide airplane flights. Indian children swarm into the shack to watch movies shown by the radio crew. And their favorite is Hopalong Cassidy because he teaches them "how to speak the English language."

Nigeria annually exports about 100,000 tons of chocolate beans, or 15 per cent of the world production.

Matter of FACT

The parachute is probably the oldest idea for man-carrying "aircraft." Leonardo da Vinci sketched one in his notebook in 1514. Fausto Veranzio published a description of a workable parachute in 1595. It was Andre Jacques Garnerin who made the first "live" parachute jump from a balloon in Paris in 1797. Modern parachutes are simply improvements on the Garnerin designs.

To March on Strand

Expect 11 Bands To Head Marchers On Memorial Day

Arrangements to hire 11 musical marching units for the Memorial Day parade in Kingston are in progress, it was announced at a committee meeting held this week at the home of City Marshall John Ray Mayone, observance chairman.

The decision was also made to include the Strand in the line of march this year.

Assembies at Stadium

The parade will assemble at Dietz Stadium and proceed via North Front Street, Wall, Main, Clinton and Albany Avenues, Broadway to East Strand, up East Strand to Hasbrouck Avenue. The marchers will disband at the Hasbrouck Avenue intersection area.

Chiefs Roy Bell, Paul Cahill, and Boatswain 1/c Ray Boyle of the U. S. Navy Recruiting Office are making arrangements for a visit of a Navy destroyer at Kingston Point for the Memorial Day weekend.

A reception committee headed by Alderman-at-Large Harold L. Kaye, and including Aldermen James K. Ryan, Tenth Ward; Donald Hastings, Third Ward, and William A. Davis, 11th Ward, are in charge of parties and receptions for the officers and men of the destroyer.

In the event of unfavorable weather, the postponement date was set for Sunday, June 1 at 3 p. m.

Alert Organizations

Organizations who have not declared their intentions to parade may do so by contacting Chairman Mayone at the office of the City Judge, City Hall.

Also attending the meeting were: Edwin Ashby, Herman Britcliffe, and Alfred G. Messinger, representing Company M. Veterans Association, sponsors of this year's observance.

In addition to Alderman-at-Large Kaye and the three aldermen, Fourth Ward Supervisor Joseph Turck attended to present the views and requests of the residents of his area.

NEW YORK (AP) — It's a spotty recession we're having. And the chances are still good that its rolling quality will continue and bring the nation through this upset in like fashion to others we've had since World War II.

Ths spottiness shows up in the offcial figures ths week on just where the economy stands.

While industrial production as a whole is down more than 12 per cent from its peak, the total output of goods and services is off only 4 per cent.

Some Purchases

While consumer buying of durable goods is down, purchases of soft goods and services are up.

While factory payrolls are lower both in number employed and in total pay, farm income is up.

While production of capital goods for industry and durable goods for consumers continues to slide, home building is looking up and easier money is fostering the plans of states and local governments to speed up construction of many public works.

These are the things that the dull statistics tell have been happening. They indicate that the rolling nature of the recession—the bad times for some, especially the makers of durable goods, being counter balanced to some extent by the good times for others —is still with us. The optimists count on this to ward off a really bad slump and in time to cure present conditions.

Here are the figures:

The nation's output of goods and services in the first three months of 1958 was at annual rate of 422 billion dollars, compared with the record 440 billion set in the third quarter of 1957.

Two Biggest Drops

But the biggest drops came from two things: Inventories were oeing liquidated at a record postbeing liquidated at a record postwar rate of nine billion dollars a year; and purchases of equipment by business was off by 2½ billion. Neither of these declines has run its course yet, but there's no reason to suppose they can go on for ever, or even for much longer.

Consumer purchases perhaps are being watched most closely of any of the recession's indicators. Buying of durable goods is off nearly three billion dollars, but the rise in purchases of soft goods and services trimmed the total loss to about 1¼ billion.

This leaves consumers spending at an annual rate of 281¼ billion dollars.

U-A Businessmen Plan Dinner, to Hònor 2 Pupils

Plans for the annual dinner dance of the Ulster-Albany Avenue Businessmen's Association to be held at Aiello's Restaurant Saturday evening, May 24, are nearing completion, it was reported at the regular meeting of the association Wednesday night by Dr. Bernard Cohen, chairman.

Among guests will be Mayor Edwin F. Radel of Kingston and Supervisor Alexander Banyo of the Town of Ulster.

Deadline May 21

Dr. Cohn said reservations were coming in nicely but called attention to the deadline which is Wednesday, May 21. His committee has made arrangements to purchase corsages for the ladies.

The association voted to sponsor a gift for the most improved boy student and girl student of the seventh grade graduating class of the Chambers School.

It was reported that the town attorney was studying a proposed ordinance requiring the licensing of peddlers and hawkers.

Members of the association discussed the matter of house-to-house selling of a phony roof application reported in the area in recent weeks. The association warned its membership to be on the alert for such solicitors.

It was pointed out that the solicitors have no permanent business establishment in the area. Any person approached by such a salesman should notify the Better Business Bureau before authorizing any work.

Davis Town Attorney

Sherwood Davis was appointed as attorney for the association.

Timothy Troyhan, chairman of the "Do It Now" campaign to slow down the recession, reported that he had been in touch with some 150 merchants in the township, explaining the purpose of the drive. He said that some progress had been reflected in the area, pointing out that each job, big or little, helped to end the recession period.

Chairman Harry Lowe of the membership committee, reported that 12 new members had been admitted to the association: Joe's Esso Gas Station, John Raskoski, Robert Pardee, Raymond Coles, Tall Cedar Motel, Oak Grove Motel, Bernal Sales Co., Inc., Glad's Lunch, John McEntee, Anthony Cicoria, Roach Bros. Rendering Plant and Grand Diner.

Membership Now 94

It was reported that the membership is now 94.

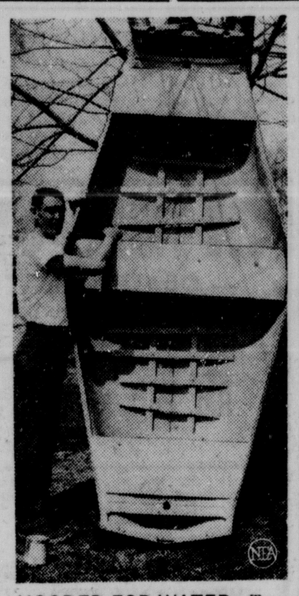

It was announced that a gala Gift Night would be held July 14—one of the biggest promotions ever held in the township There will be three grand prizes and 150 extra prizes—all free. Tickets will be distributed free of charge to all customers of association members.

A committee was appointed to make a study of the by-laws of the association and submit recommendations.

There will be no meetings during the summer. President Ted Musialkiewicz pointed out, however, that committees would continue to function until all obligations were completed.

The association voted to make its annual appropriations for the Town of Ulster Little League.

The association has sponsored a Little League team since its inception and played a substantial part in organization of the league in the township.

HOODED FOR WATER—Two 1948 Oldsmobile hoods were welded together by State Highway Patrolman Charles Beverage of Monroeville, Ohio, to make this 9-foot fishing boat. Beverage, assigned to the Ohio Turnpike patrol, spent 12 dollars making the unique craft. He's not going to try it on Lake Erie, but will use it for river and inland lake fishing and duck hunting.

Charge Brothers With Slaying of Young Patrolman

PASSAIC, N. J. (AP)—Two brothers were arraigned on a charge of first degree murder here this morning in the fatal shooting of a rookie policeman.

The brothers, Paul Fitzsimmons, 42, and Eugene Fitzsimmons, 37, of Clifton, are ex-convicts. They were taken before Magistrate Joseph Teich and charged with the slaying of Patrolman Robert Strone.

Both Plead Innocent

Mandatory pleas of innocent were entered for both men after Paul made a futile attempt at pleading guilty to the charge.

Harry Kampleman of Passaic was appointed by the court to serve as defense counsel for the brothers.

Paul's common-law wife, Alice, was ordered held in $25,000 bail as a material witness.

The three were rushed off to Passaic County jail in two cars following the arraignment.

Deputy Atty. Gen. John Thevos earlier announced that the brothers had confessed to shooting Strone when the 28-year-old policeman began questioning them about the holdup of a confectionery store.

Young Rookie Helps

Authorities said it was Paul who had done the actual shooting.

The reported confessions climaxed six days of intensive investigation that began early last Friday when Strone's body was found lying in a pool of blood in a lot. His pistol, nightstick and flash light were missing, and a .38 caliber slug was found in the back of his neck.

Ironically, it was the detective work of another rookie policeman that led to the arrest of the Fitzsimmons brothers.

Patrolman George Ziplo, who was sworn in the same day as Strone, received a tip that the brothers had returned to their Clifton home earlier this week after disappearing last Friday.

Beauty and Barber Shop Celebrating 25th Anniversary

Mickey's Beauty and Barber Shop, 50 North Front Street, is celebrating its 25th anniversary, it was learned today.

Michael Mazzuca, proprietor, got a modest start when he opened a barbershop (across the street from his present location). After some eight or 10 months there he moved to his present location and expanded his operation to include a beauty shop.

He still operates a barbershop — two chairs — and has expanded his beauty shop steadily.

Freeman Advertiser

The shop is a consistent advertiser in The Freeman.

Mickey got started with one operator — himself — in a small space (10 by 12).

He now has seven operators assisting him in quarters expanded to 20 by 40 feet. There are now eight hairstyling chairs.

Mickey, a native of East Kingston, is "quite proud" of the fact that he has seven shampoo basins for the accommodation of his clientele.

Has Latest Hairdryer

Quite recently Mickey installed an air-conditioning hairdryer, the latest in hairstyling equipment. It is not hot air, he explains, but is thermostatically controlled, providing the maximum of comfort.

The shop is completely air-conditioned at the present time. Mickey points out that the air-conditioning is used year-round.

Mazzuca calls attention to the fact that the barber and beauty sections of his shop are completely separated by partitions.

He attended local schools and has worked in Kingston since that time, attending numerous hairstyling courses in New York City.

Gives Personal Supervision

He devotes most of his time to personal supervision of the work of his seven operators.

Mazzuca is married and has two children. His wife is the former Mary Patti of Highland. His son, Ralph, will enter Georgetown University this year to study dentistry. His daughter, Marianne, is completing her first year at Kingston High School.

Units Start Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paratroopers and Marines, rushed to the Caribbean after mob attacks in Venezuela on Vice President Nixon and his wife, started back home today.

The Pentagon said 29 transports, which flew two companies of the 101st Airborne Division from Ft. Campbell, Ky., to Puerto Rico, would fly the 500 men back during the day.

Orders were to be issued later in the day for the 500 Marines also dispatched to Caribbean bases.

Schoolboys Suffocate

DETROIT (AP)—Four schoolboys trying to ride a load of salt out the bottom of a railroad hopper car suffocated Wednesday when they got stuck in the chute and buried in the avalanche.

Would-be rescuers, called by the victims' two playmates, dug with their bare hands, garbage can covers and other makeshift tools in a desperate attempt to free the trapped youngsters.

They were too late. Only one of the four was alive when freed and he died soon afterward.

An engineer from a nearby switch engine had to be called to move the railroad car so the salt wouldn't pile back into the hopper, hampering efforts to get the children loose.

Police identified the dead boys as Norman Clatterbuck, 14; Ricky Contardi, 12; Jimmy Healy, 13, and David Lachapelle, 10, all of Detroit. The two who escaped were Danny Lawler and Robert Fisher, both 11 and also of Detroit.

Oversight

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — In arranging a dinner honoring John Harris, manager of an airline communication office, on his retirement after 28 years service, it was discovered that Harris still was carried on company records as a probationary employe. The airlines had to make Harris a regular employe to retire him.

Burglar Falls 7 Floors to Death

NEW YORK (AP)—A burglar fell seven floors to death Wednesday night after being surprised in a stripteaser's apartment.

Police believe the burglar, Raymond S. Branch, 30, Negro, slipped whle inching his way hand-over-hand along a ledge out side the building.

Branch, who had a long police record, entered the apartment of Miss Loretta Roberts, a stripteaser billed as "Pepper Powell."

Miss Powell was playing an engagement in Ohio and her apartment was being occupied by Jay C. Clark, of Long Beach, N. Y., manager of a night club, "The Living Room," in the Long Island City.

Clark told police that Miss Roberts had asked him to stay in the apartment and care for her cat while she was away.

He said he had been out last evening. When he returned to the apartment, he unlocked the door but found the chain on. Clark called aloud. No one answered, but he heard a sound of scurrying inside the apartment.

A moment later, Clark looked out the stairway window and saw the shadow of a man's legs dangling outside the apartment as he made his way toward the window where Clark was watching. Clark called out "I see you," and the burglar, trying to reverse his course, slipped and screamed.

U. S. Buying Jets For Ike's Trips

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is buying three jet transports costing five million dollars each to be used by President Eisenhower and other high ranking officials on long distance trips.

The planes, four-jet Boeing 707s, may be delivered by the end of this year. The 707, now being produced for commercial use, has a top speed of 500-600 miles an hour and is capable of stratospheric flight.

Eisenhower's approval of the purchase order was announced Wednesday by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, who said the planes would be available for use by the President or other top government officials on cross country or intercontinental flights.

Hagerty said none of the three-speed jets would be assigned to Eisenhower alone. He said the President would continue to use his personal plane, the propeller-driven Columbine III, on many trips.

The Boeing plane was picked, Hagerty said, because it is "the first American jet transport aircraft with substantial flying experience."

Ave Urges Action To Deepen Hudson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Harriman told a Senate subcommittee again today that the Hudson River channel should be deepend to utilize its full economic potential.

It is an "economic waste of the first order," Harriman said, for modern, deep-water ships to unload part of their cargoes at New York City before proceeding northward up the Hudson.

Congress authorized the work in 1954. The funds have not been appropriated.

Harriman's prepared statement was to be read to the public works subcommittee of the Senate Appropriations Committee by Mrs. India Edwards. She is director of the State Commerce Department's Washington office. The governor is vacationing in Florida.

Deepening of the channel to 32 feet, Harriman said, would allow big ships to navigate the upper Hudson without first discharging cargo at New York. Thus costs to manufacturers, distributors and consumers would be lowered, he said.

The program also includes widening the channel and constructing anchorages and turning basins.

Harriman pointed out that he approved legislation last year authorizing the state to provide all necessary lands, easements and rights-of-way without cost to the federal government. This was done to expedite the project, he said.

Reading Won't Hurt

PROVIDENCE, R.I. — A team of Brown University psychologists reports that reading smutty books does not make the reader more likely to commit sex crimes. Drs. Nissim Levy, Lewis R. Lipsitt and Judy F. Rosenblith said blaming lewd literature is a form of "scapegoatism".

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON

UNIFICATION NOW

"In time of peace, prepare for war," said George Washington, our first Commander-in-Chief.

The wisdom of that policy is more important now than ever. For we now have to prepare for instant war. We can't wait until hostile I.C.B.M.'s are over our cities to lay down clear-cut lines of command for the Air Force, Army, Navy and Marines to follow.

MR HUTTON

We hope the country will rally to the support of President Eisenhower's demand for action—NOW. Modern war requires getting "thar fastest with the mostest," as a great Confederate general said.

If victory or survival itself could be guaranteed without unification, still, as the President says, unification can save our pocketbooks. World War III may never take place, but we can always use the money we would save—and how!

The President should have got behind unification years ago when his prestigue was at its height. But it is possible that his chance of success is greater now than then, for today the people are weary of waste in Government. Besides, there is Sputnik.

It will be a fierce battle. Opposed will be the forces of pride, place and prestige in the Armed Services. There will be the opposition of manufacturers and their workers who live on the duplication of Government contracts and are fearful of the economies which should result from unification.

But success to you, Mr. President.

Must Face Tax Trial

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Hyman Trugman of Buffalo, N. Y., must stand trial May 22 on a federal income-tax charge.

U. S. District Judge David Ling denied Wednesday the pudgy promoter's motion for dismissal of a charge that he failed to file a tax return on a gross income of $52,658 for 1954.

Trugman contended he had not been given a prompt trial, as guaranteed by the U. S. Constitution. He said he was charged in January, 1957, and was not arraigned until nine months later.

The government said Trugman was serving a prison sentence for fraud at the time.

Dies of Injuries

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Mrs. Eva McCarthy, struck by a truck Tuesday at a busy intersection, died Wednesday in a hospital here. She was 52.

Bad Overcall Is High Board

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

Just the other morning I was congratulating myself on recent success in dodging the Unlucky Expert when the phone rang and his mournful voice could be heard mumbling on the other end.

Unfortunately, I had failed to answer the phone with some remark such as, "Mr. Jacoby has just left for Patagonia," so I was trapped and you readers might as well suffer along with me. Here is his latest tragedy told in his own words:

"My partner and I were well on our way to winning ourselves a duplicate. I made a normal one-spade opening and my partner jumped me to game. Everything should have been just fine and dandy. I would have made four spades against a diamond lead and five against any other, but South was in one of those top or bottom moods. He looked at his collection of trash and yodeled four no-trump.

"I had no defense except to double that bid and the five-diamond runout. We managed to cash three heart tricks and two aces and did pick up 500 points. Unfortunately, no other South had the bull-headed luck to fall in the river and come up with a fish in his mouth. Every other East and West pair was plus 620 or 650 and we scored a nice round zero."

There is no question that his bad luck is running overtime. I just wonder how he ever got started toward winning in the first place.

Olean Woman Heads Medical Auxiliary

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Maurice Sheldon, a doctor's wife from Olean, is the new president of the State Medical Society Auxiliary.

Mrs. Sheldon was installed Wednesday at a dinner in the Hotel Statler, where the society is holding its annual meeting.

She has two grown daughters and is a grandmother. Her husband is an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist.

During the historic Berlin airlift, Allied planes ferried 2,325,500 tons of food and fuel to the city.

A Dog's Competition

SWAN VALLEY, Idaho (AP)—The word "mush" may soon be on the way out of the Eskimo's dictionary. Idaho snowplanes are replacing yaping dog teams for transportation in Alaska. Swan Valley Rancher H. L. Weise, a part-time designer, already has sent three snow skimmers to Arctic regions and is preparing more. Besides being more comfortable, snow planes don't eat meat.

List Itinerary for Annual Summer Caravan to Mexico

The fourth annual caravan to Mexico will follow a fascinating itinerary this July and August it was disclosed today.

The five-week tour by station wagon and trailer will be headed by the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur E. Oudemool of the Old Dutch Church.

To Leave July 22

The caravan takes its departure from Kingston July 22. The itinerary follows:

Saturday, July 26—We expect to arrive at Nuevo Laredo, which is the most important of the seven frontier cities of Mexico. Over 50 per cent of the commerce across the Rio Grande passes through this city which is connected with bridges to Laredo, Tex. These two cities were once one Mexican town. When the Spaniards under the direction of Capt. Tomas Sanchaz established a caravan stopover in 1751 for travelers of the colonial days, they found Indians who tilled the soil and built mud houses. The part of the town on the left bank was taken by force in 1846 by the Texas Rangers, occupied by U. S. troops under Gen. Lamar in 1847, and chartered as a city of Texas in 1852.

After going through customs we will travel to Monterrey—146 miles—for our first stopover in Mexico. This is the capital of the state of Nuevo Leon and is the third largest city in Mexico. Colon Market is a colorful place, offering besides fruits and vegetables many examples of native handcrafts. Close by is located the street market, known as San Luisito which is well worth a visit. Of particular interest in the market are pocketbooks, carved birds of cow horn, embroidered pillow cases and fine silver filigre jewelry.

Has Swimming Pool

A swimming pool is located in the heart of the city at Allende and Zaragoza Cailes. This is one of the largest swimming pools in the world with water so abundant that the pool is completely renewed every three hours. You will enjoy dining at the lovely Hotel Ambassador or Sanborns. Mail address for Monterrey: Royal Courts, Highway 85, Monterrey, Mexico.

Monday, July 28—Travel to Saltillo — 55 miles. This is a great resort high in the mountains, and cool after the heat of Monterrey. There will be a swimming pool right in our trailer court. Saltillo is the capital of the state of Coahuilla which state once included all of Texas. This delightful city, surrounded by mountains, and at an altitude of 6,000 feet, was the home of both Hidalgo and Don Ignacio Allende, two of Mexico's great patriots. The market is a good one and is noted for finely woven serapes and tin masks. Mail address for Saltillo: Huizache Courts, Highway Saltillo-Monterrey, Saltillo, Mexico.

Tuesday, July 29—Travel to San Luis Potosi — 284 miles. This is the capital of the state of San Luis Potosi. It is located in the center of a rich agricultural and mining district. It is a pleasant old city with cobbled streets and a centuries old atmosphere.

Wednesday, July 30 — Leave San Luis Potosi and go 124 miles to Queretaro. Much of the charm of this capital city lies in the history of its past. The town was founded by the Otomi Indians long before the discovery of the New World. It became part of the Aztec empire in the 15th Century and was overcome by Spanish forces in 1531.

Plans for the national independence were formed in this city and it was here that the Treaty of Guadalupe was signed ceding California and New Mexico to the United States. Emperor Maximillian and two of his faithful generals were executed on a hill west of the town in 1867, and the constitution under which Mexico is now governed was drafted in Queretaro in 1917.

The native Otomis do fine weaving, and opals, which are mined locally, can be bought here very reasonably. Our trailer court here has a fine swimming pool. Mail address for Queretaro: Hotel Y Balneario El Jacal, Pan American Highway, Queretaro, Mexico.

To Visit Market Place

Thursday, July 31 — Leave Queretaro at noon for Toluca—119 miles. We will be up bright and early the next morning to visit the largest market in Mexico. This market has been held on the same spot, on Fridays, for hundreds of years. Practically everything that is made, grown, eaten, worn or cooked, is on display here. The finest and most beautiful baskets of the country come from here. There are also interesting serapes, heavy wool sweaters, chess sets, leather bags, jewelry, wool shawls of great beauty (rebosas).

We will leave Toluca around noon for the 40-mile trip to one of the world's most beautiful cities—Mexico, D. F. It was a metropolis of 60,000 homes when Manhattan was only an uninhabited island. In Bernal Diaz's account of the first view of the city by the Spaniards under Cortez, he wrote: "When we saw so many cities and villages built on the water and other great towns built on dry land, we were amazed and said it was like the enchantments they tell of in the Legend of Amadis, on account of the great towers and pyramids and buildings rising from the water, and all built of masonry, and some of our soldiers even asked if some of the things we saw were not a dream."

Even as the Conquistadors marveled, so will you! You will love the great parks, flower lined boulevards and majestic monuments, set amongst the most ancient and most modern architecture in the world. This is the seat of a fabulous civilization that gave to the world a 365-day calendar six hundred years before the development of the Gregorian calendar of Europe! The archeologist's spade is proving that here was a civilization as great as those golden periods of Egypt, Greece and Rome.

During our stay here we will visit:

Visits Scheduled

The National Museum where you will see the great Aztec calendar stone; Chapulpec Castle, home of Maximillian and Carlotta; the Zocolo; the Church of the Virgin of Guadalupe; the floating gardens of Zochimilco; University City. We will take a 30-mile trip to Teotihuacan where you will have a chance to climb the largest pyramid in the world, the Pyramid of the Sun. If you want to, you can search the ground for arrowheads made of obsidian and small clay figurines. This is one of the richest archeological zones in the world. Interesting markets in markets in Mexico City are the Merced, San Juan, Lagunilla and Guadalupe. You will dine in some of the most famous restaurants in this hemisphere — Sanborn's House of Tiles and the Pavilion Suiza. Mail address in Mexico City: Cabello Trailer Court, 235 Hortensias Calle, Villa Alvar Obregon, Mexico, D.F., Mexico.

Monday, August 4—Leave Mexico City and go 233 miles to Acapulco. The view coming into the town from the highway is one of the most dramatically beautiful vistas in the world. There are 23 beaches here to choose from and there will be one right across the road from our trailer park. One of the interesting things we will see here will be the divers from the cliffs of the Quebrada. The dives must be made in split second timing in order not to meet death on the rocks below.

Mail address for Acapulco — Playa Suave Trailer Park, Acapulco, Mexico.

Climate Is Wonderful

Wednesday, August 6 — On our way beck to Mexico City we will stop for the night at Cuernavaca. Once the favorite vacation spot of Cortez and later of Maximillian and Carlotta, Cuernavaca is still a famous resort town because of its wonderful climate, picturesque surroundings, luxuriant vegetation and brilliant flowers. The old Cortez palace contains some of Diego Rivera's finest murals, donated to the Republic of Mexico by Dwight Morrow, former U. S. Ambassador to Mexico.

Early Thursday morning, those who wish to, may go to Taxco, an old silver mining town founded in 1522. Situated 6,000 feet high in the mountains, it is one of the mose beautiful towns in Mexico. The silver work produced here is unsurpassed anywhere in the world.

Thursday and Friday, August 7 and 8—We are back in Mexico City and will take in all the sights we missed on our first visit.

Sunday, August 10—We travel to Quieroga—209 miles. On our way we pass through the Atzimba National Park and we will go over peaks 10,000 feet high, might even hit a snowstorm! This is the territory of the Tarascan Indians. They are a handsome, sober, intelligent and friendly race, proud of their farms and country.

In Quieroga we will stop to visit one of the most interesting of the small markets of Mexico. There will be fine trays, tin and copper masks, tree flowers, handwoven clothes and brightly decorated pottery.

We will take a side trip to Tzintzuntzan — ancient seat of the Tarascan kingdom. A Christian church stands on the site of the old palace in an atrium of olive, ash and cedar trees planted by Franciscan missionaries over 400 years ago. You can hike up to the hill where the tombs of the kings are. They are being excavated and you can buy artifacts. In the village you can get very unusual cream-colored pottery with stylized fish designs and beautiful handwoven material.

World Renowned

We will spend the night in a lovely spot overlooking Lake Patzcuaro — known the world over for the odd butterfly nets that the Indian fishermen use to catch fish.

Monday, August 11—We travel on to Guadalajara—212 miles. We will pass through Morelia, capital of the state of Michoacan. It is one of the early centers of Spanish culture in Mexico and has figured prominently in Mexican history. It was the home of Jose Moreloa, hero of Mexico's Revolution for Independence. Coming into the town, you will see a 16th century aqueduct which brought water down from the mountains to the city. Morelia is a good place to buy Tarascan handcraft goods such as lacquer work, wood carvings, hand weaving.

Guadalajara, capital of the state of Jalisco, is a delightful city with lots to see. Orozco, one of Mexico's greatest muralists, lives here and his original studio is now a museum containing some of his best paintings.

You will enjoy a ride around the town in a calandria (horse-drawn cab).

We will visit the Avalos glass factory where you will see some of Mexico's most skillfull glass blowers demonstrate their skill.

The trip out to Tlaquepaque will fascinate you. This is a town of pottery makers and you will see whole families at work in their homes making pottery in primitive methods. One of the most attractive purchases to make here is a collection of small hand molded clay figurines depicting different types of Mexican people. The brass and copper work here is very fine, too.

Mail address in Guadalajara: El Cortijo, Highway 15, KM, 676, Guadalajara, Mexico.

See the Pacific

Thursday, August 14 — We travel up the West Coast Highway—315 miles. We stop at Mazatlan—a scenic harbor on the Pacific Ocean. We camp right on the beach.

Cocoa palms around the town, along with bananas, papayas, mangos, a profusion of flowers, give this spot a tropical air. You can take a ride around the town in an arana (two-wheeled horse-drawn cart).

Saturday, August 16 — We travel to Los Mochis—269 miles. This is a large sugar cane area.

Sunday, August 17—We arrive in Guaymas—218 miles. Again we will be camping right on the beach, but this time you will be swimming in the Gulf of California.

Great for Fishing

This is one of the world's greatest fishing resorts. Here we spend our last night in Mexico—and I'm sure you are already planning to come back!

Monday, August 18—We will be on our way to Nogales—258 miles. Customs — and we plant our feet in the good old U. S. A.

Tuesday, August 19—Arizona! Land of the Hopis, Zunis, Navajos! We pass through Tucson and Phoenix and spend the night in the Wickenburg Mountains.

Wednesday, August 20 — We arrive at Grand Canyon. Often referred to as "earth's most sublime spectacle," Grand Canyon has a glory no words can describe. It is four to eight miles wide, five thousand feet deep, over 200 miles long. You will have opportunity to take the day-long trip by muleback down into the canyon to the Colorado river.

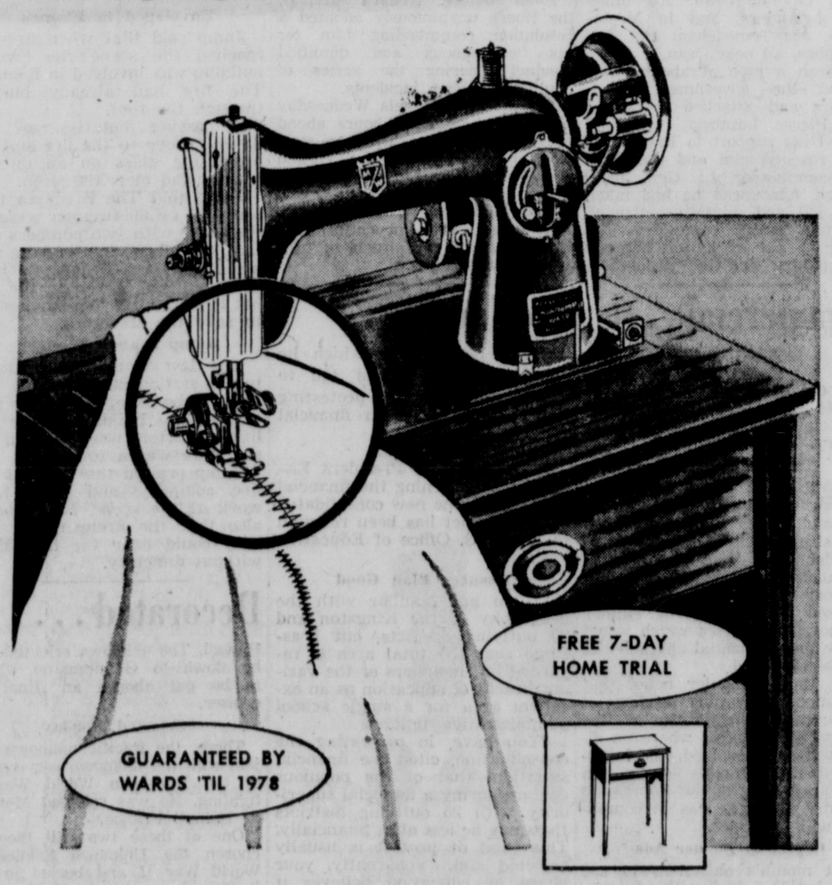

We will visit Yavapi Point where you will hear the story of the canyon and we will take a trip to the pre-historic Indian ruins. You will spend some time in Hopi House and see the ceremonial dances. At night you may attend the dance at the hotel or go to the campfire meeting. The canyon will be the thrill of a life time! Mail address: General Delivery, Grand Canyon, Arizona.

Hall Predicts State GOP Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Leonard W. Hall said today the decision of Sen. Irving M. Ives not to seek re-election had cost the Republican Party a top state vote-getter. But he predicted the party would win this fall, anyway.

"If he had been a candidate he would have won," Hall said in expressing regret over Ives' announcement. "In my opinion, we've lost a wonderful vote-getter. However, the party will win in November."

Asked whether he thought the GOP position in November was weakened by the fact that two strong candidates—one for governor and one for senator—would have to be found, Hall said he did not.

Hall, a former Republican national chairman, is a possible party nominee for governor this year.

He made his comments upon leaving for Albany by plane to meet with a group of 15 Republican county leaders.

Firemen Check Calls

Firemen were called at 4:46 p. m., yesterday to the apartment of Morris Gilman, 39 Chambers Street, where excessive oil in a space heater caused a fire threat. A tank was removed from the stove. Cornell and Central stations, and the Wicks salvage unit responded. A false alarm sounded from a box at Miller's Lane and Lucas Avenue at 3:12 p. m., was traced to a five-year-old boy. Wiltwyck station, its volunteer unit, Wicks and Central responded.

Caution Abandoned

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Municipal Traffic Judge Bob Laster said there was no doubt the man before him was guilty of unsafe driving but added that there was "a pretty good incentive." The defendant said he drove his automobile off a 12-foot bluff onto railroad tracks while speeding away from two unknown attackers who threw hot grease in his face when he visited his girl friend's house. The charge was dismissed.

Report Agreement With Local No. 17 On Highway Jobs

It was reported unofficially today that an agreement in one phase of negotiations between certain contractors and Local 17, Laborers and Hod Carriers, had been reached.

Details were not available but it was reported by an informed source that the agreement was with contractors on highway construction jobs.

The settlement was reportedly with the Catskill Mountain Contractors Association.

No agreement has been reached, however, in the "building" phase of the negotiations, according to The Freeman's source.

It was also reported that the Catskill association adopted a resolution in praise of the cooperative approach by union repreesentatives during the negotiations and the very real effort made by labor leaders to sit down with contractors and work out the rough spots.

A principal difference between the union and the contractors has been the matter of "show-up time"—two hours pay to each worker who shows up on a work day, even if weather prevents work on that day.

Youth Goes Free

charging Charles with illegal seizure of his sister, and requesting the boy be apprehended.

Held on Warrant

Charles W. Becker was apprehended, along with his sister at Phoenicia by state police under the Virginia warrant and taken to the county jail awaiting a hearing before Justice of the Peace Millard Davis of Town of Ulster under the warrant charging the lad with illegal seizure.

Frederick Stang, former mayor of Kingston, was retained as counsel for young Becker.

At this point a long legal procedure was instituted by Attorney Stang. A writ of habeas corpus was secured from Supreme Court Justice Kenneth L. MacAffer.

The writ was served on Sheriff Claude Bell and the matter came before Justice MacAffer at special term. Meanwhile the father came to Ulster County demanding the girl be returned to him.

Grandmother Gets Custody

Charles, his sister and their grandmother, with whom they had been living at Allaben, appeared before Justice MacAffer and after the facts of the matter had been laid before Justice MacAffer, custody of the child was granted to the grandmother, Mabel Shaffer. Meanwhile, Attorney Stang secured release of Charles on bail and got in touch with the Ulster County district attorney's office.

Extradition papers had been prepared by the Commonwealth of Virginia for the return of Charles to Virginia to face the illegal seizure charge.

Appeals to Harriman

Attoney Stang went to the office of Governor Harriman, who had not yet received the extradition papers, and was promised we would be informed when the papers arrived from Virginia. Later at Albany, Stang laid in great detail the facts before the governor and requested they be given close examination before signature to the extradition papers was attached for the return of Charles to Virginia.

The matter was referred to Morris Marshall Cohn of Schenectady by the governor, appointed special investigator of the charges.

Following a study of the lengthy report Cohn suggested hearing be held and asked the Virginia authorities to appear.

Stang's Plea Effective

As a result of the proceedings brought by Attorney Stang the Governor of Virginia requested return of the extradition papers after the facts were revealed and the attorney for the Commonwealth of Virginia withdrew the charges against young Becker and the warrant of arrest was returned to Virginia.

Facts gathered locally by Stang resulted in a decision by the Virginia authorities that there was "insufficient cause" to lay the charges of illegal seizure.

Charles Becker is now absolved of the charge and back at work. His sister is with her grandmother and again attending Onteora school.

Mrs. Becker died shortly after her daughter came north to see her.

Sharkey the Seal Dies; Thrilled Many World Over

Sharkey, the performing seal, who left his native haunts on Catalina Island, California, to thrill millions, is dead.

Perhaps the most famous of all trained seals, Sharkey had thrilled audiences throughout the world on the stage, screen and TV.

Trained by Mark Huling, since 1951 Sharkey has carried on under the management of William Roe of 84 Hurley Avenue. Sharkey died Wednesday morning at the age of 24 and was buried in the Roe backyard where a suitable monument to the famous old trouper will be erected.

Retired since the first of the year, after playing the Christmas show for NBC in New York City, there remains but one of the famous seal troup to carry on. That is Sandy who is 10 years old.

Sharkey had played at practically all of the entertainment centers, including TV programs, at sportsmen's shows, in the movies, at summer fairs and among his most conspicuous places was Radio City Music Hall in New York City where he appeared for a 13-week engagement.

Sandy will continue as a trouper, playing engagements at shows, fairs and probably at the Steel Pier in Atlantic City this summer.

DiCandia Desires

parole in six months. DiCandia asked that the involutary proceedings in bankruptcy against the corporation be held open until such time as he is released on parole. He expressed confidence that if permitted to take over operation of the mill he would be able to meet his financial obligations and pay off all creditors.

DiCandia was returned to Kingston for the examination from prison. He has been sentenced to the Federal Penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa.

Creditor Makes Plea

Jesse Shurter of the Shurter Lumber Company at Samsonville, a creditor, asked that if it were "favorable" to the majority of creditors, "when and if Joe DiCandia is eligible for parole he be allowed to come back and start the paper mills up." Shurter called attention to the number of persons who had been employed at the Napanoch mills and who were now out of work. He said these jobs were "more valuable" now than ever before to the local man and he said it was the "best chance" creditors had to get their money if the mills were again put in operation by DiCandia.

"If the mill is sold at foreclosure it won't bring more than $25,000 to $50,000," Shurter said.

To Take Months

Referee in Bankruptcy Schofeld said settlements of the bankruptcy proceeding would probably take "months."

On examination by Counsel Gold, DiCandia said perhaps he had treated FDIC "better in July 1957 than I did other creditors."

The plant was closed in December 1957.

DiCandia said there may have been some $15,000 or $20,000 due on accounts which was not covered by the FDIC mortgage. In much of his testimony about finances DiCandia was vague, saying that he had left much of the financial problem to Rose.

There were a number of local creditors at the hearing.

Further proceedings were adjourned until June 5, at 1:30 p. m. at the Dutchess County court house in Poughkeepsie.

The hearing before Referee Schofeld Wednesday was in the involuntary bankruptcy proceedings against the officers of the corporation. DiCandia is not personally in bankruptcy, the referee pointed out.

DiCandia was examined by Hyman Gold, counsel to Receiver Burns who is a former U. S. assistant attorney general in New York City. John Wilkie appeared as counsel for the FDIC. Several creditors appeared in person and by counsel.

During the examination of DiCandia he was questioned at length in regard to his past business experience and his associations with the Stillwater paper, plant, since disposed of by DiCandia.

Objects to Bankruptcy

The examination was directed primarily to the facts surrounding the giving of the $900,000 mortgage to the FDIC in December 1956 after the shortage at the Home National Bank of Ellenville had been discovered and its president, William R. Rose, had been charged with misappropriation of funds.

DiCandia objected to the firm being thrown into bankruptcy while he was still incarcerated and said while he was imprisoned he was unable to defend the action and could not even attempt to raise funds to save the company so long as he was imprisoned.

Cites Expansion

During a program of improvement and installation of machinery for expanding the plant, DiCandia said he borrowed money from the Home National, gave notes in exchange and when checks were given in payment for goods sold they were turned over to Rose and applied on reduction of obligations.

DiCandia said the plant was not operated at a loss.

He pointed out that the company apparently did not show a profit because so much of the money went back into the plant for expansion and improvement. At times when the plant was shut down for installation of new equipment no money was made. At one time he said about $600,000 had been spent on improvements and the income was $500,000. In all he said about $1,500,000 had been spent for expansion. Of the $900,000 "Mr. Rose gave us" DiCandia said "mostly was used for expansion."

Points to Drop in Value

In December 1956, at the time the mortgage was given FIDC, DiCandia said the plant could have been sold for $1,000,000 but in July, 1957, after it had been partly shut down, it probably would not have been worth more than $300,000 as an "operating plant". He maintained however that the plant is a $1,000,000 proposition.

At the time he gave the FIDC the $900,000 mortgage in December 1956, DiCandia said he had also given them a list of his other creditors. He said he had given the FDIC the mortgage because it was the "government" and he could not talk to it but to his other creditors, many of them local, he would discuss the matter. He said his other creditors were owed about $300,000. However, he had made some payments and in July 1957 owed creditors less than in December 1956 when the mortgage was given. The mortgage to FDIC covered the property and accounts owed. The mortgage was given on advice of his counsel, but DiCandia said since he had been imprisoned he had no money and was without counsel.

Nothing for Others

The FDIC mortgage covered all of the company assets and DiCandia said there was nothing left for other creditors "except what I made out of the business."

UAW Will Continue GM Talks Blackout

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers officials indicated today they will continue their news blackout at General Motors Corp. contract negotiations but lift the veil of secrecy at Ford Motor Co.

The policy split became evident when negotiations at the two companies resumed today. UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock said as he entered talks at GM that he favors keeping the news blackc t in force.

GM, as it has before, was expected to honor the UAW request there.

However, Eugene E. Prato, chairman of the UAW's National Ford Council, told newsmen as he went into the Ford negotiations that the union will not ask for a news blackout there on further negotiations.

A Ford spokesman said, "The Ford Motor Co. never asked for a blackout—we just went along with the union's request and there is no reason to believe we will ask for a blackout now."

Chrysler negotiators went into session without any indication of whether the blackout there would be continued or lifted.

Socialists Back

cipline and suppress any agitation among the troops. Commanders in Algeria were told to report directly to the Defense Ministry, instead of to the high command in Algiers. There was no indication whether the officers in Algeria were obeying.

More than 16,000 reinforcements were brought in to help Paris police keep order. Armored units ringing the capital were on constant alert.

Paris was quiet but jittery after a second night of battles between rioters, from both the extreme right and the Communist left, and security troops.

Riots Are Quiet

Rioters in Algiers who touched off the crisis Tuesday stayed quiet under orders of the head of the dissident junta, paratroop Brig. Gen. Jacques Massu.

Pflimlin for the moment depended on Maj. Gen. Raoul Salan, the French commander in chief in Algeria, to preserve the facade of government control. He designated Salan to assume provisional civil and military authority in the North African territory and announced later he had received Salan's first report. The implication was that it was satisfactory.

Heavily censored dispatches from Algeria indicated local military control, with the public safety committees operating under them, and that so far there were no direct challenges to Salan's authority. Neither was Salan making any evident attempt to oust Massu or suppress the committees.

New Groups Formed

New committees opposing any relaxation of the war effort were formed Wednesday in Algeria's second city of Oran, 230 miles west of Algiers, and in Mostaganem, Ain Temouchent and Sidi Bel Abbes, all near Oran.

In Oran a mob of about 40,000 invaded the government headquarters and attacked provincial Gov. Pierre Lambert, who had pledged his support to Paris. The army rescued him and the Oran area commander, Lt. Gen. Jean-Rhetore, announced he had taken over civil and military authority. A public safety committee was set up to act as liaison between the military and the population.

Commercial....

held a display there, but was more concerned with establishment of a precedent which could lead to abuses of the residential character of the area around the armory.

Harkin Explains

Col. Harkin's letter noted that inquires had been made in the area and it was found that objections stressed the establishment of precedent, possible future uses of the building for public sales, and the fear that the building would be used for auctions or similar commercial purposes which would violate the residential character of the neighborhood.

Col. Harkin's letter noted that regulations governing leasing of the armory permits use of the building in instances where no direct sales are involved, and he indicated that officials last month were apparently of the impression that the applicant was in compliance with the rules.

Object to Banner Ads

Last month's objections to use of the building dealt with advertising methods for displays, exhibits or promotions which require the use of commercial posters or hanging banners which also violate the residential character of the neighborhood.

Union Fern, Inc., leased the armory after it had been denied use of the Kingston Municipal Auditorium. It was decided that use of the latter for the stated purpose would be a violation of rules governing leasing of the building.

YMCA News

Kingston Hi-Y delegation of the YMCA, including Elaine Hafer, Annette Gambino,, Raymond Reilly, Ronald Thomas and Frank Rebollo, youth director, attended the three-day Southeastern Hi-Y conference at Camp Greenkill last weekend.

William Goid, well-known psychologist, addressed the group on world affairs.

Nicholas Patinos, secretary of World Services of the YMCA, spoke on the creation of a feeling of brotherhood and understanding between all races and countries.

Saturday night more than 300 participated in a fire of friendship. The ritual involved five torches representing the five races which were used to light the fire at the outdoor meeting.

Sunday following church services an assembly was held in which foreign students also participated.

Nixons Given

Nixon had shaken hands with Cabinet members, congressional leaders and diplomats, they stepped up on a microphone-equipped platform from which the President spoke his formal remarks of welcome.

Troops of Companies A and D of the 3rd Infantry from Ft. Myer, Va., were drawn up as a security guard. There were about 150 of these in their cocky uniforms with blue neckerchiefs. This is the force always on hand for formal airport receptions.

Bands Play for Hour

Two bands were tootling away more than an hour before Nixon's plane was due from San Juan, Puerto Rico, last stop on the tour that began April 27 and took the vice president to eight Latin American countries.

A band from Northwestern High School of Hyattsville, Md., appeared in blue uniforms with white trim and a bevy of white clad, bare-legged drum majorettes.

In red uniform from Suitland, Md., High School came another band complete with high stepping majorettes in short skirts.

A group of students carried a red, white and blue sign proclaiming they were from the University of Maryland and bearing the added legend: "Nix-on Reds."

Early Rush for View

There was an early rush by just plain citizens to secure vantage points to see the spectacle and give a cheer for the vice president and his wife.

Thousands more had a chance to extend their welcome, along a motorcade route from the airport to the White House, to the man who was stoned in Lima, Peru, and attacked by mobsters in Caracas, Venezuela, during an official good will tour.

Eisenhower sounded the keynote of the welcoming ceremonies when he told his news conference Wednesday that "because of my admiration for his calmness and fortitude and his courage in very trying circumstances, I would like to make some special gesture."

Johnson on Hand

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas announced he would be on hand to greet the vice president along with other members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Arrangements were made for 10 buses to take members of Congress and congressional staff employes to the airport. The Republican committee for the District of Columbia issued invitations to 5,000 Republicans to turn out.

Since Nixon had particularly been the target of student attacks during his turbulent visit to Latin countries, a motorcade of buses and cars from Washington area universities was organized to go to the airport.

House Praises Nixon

Eisenhower also authorized federal departments to release government workers so they could go to the airport or line up along the parade route.

Even before Nixon's arrival, the House unanimously adopted a resolution commending him for his "courageous and dignified conduct" during the series of South American incidents.

Nixon left Venezuela Wednesday night — about eight hours ahead of schedule. He arranged a stopover at San Juan, Puerto Rico and dinner with Gov. Luis Munoz Marin.

His departure from Caracas, kept secret, was uneventful after troops cleared the streets of traffic and bystanders.

To Handle...

Cave, 9 Joy's Lane, which he addressed some weeks ago to President Eisenhower, protesting consolidation on financial grounds.

The letter follows:

"Your letter to President Eisenhower concerning the financial situation in the new consolidated school district has been referred to the U. S. Office of Education for reply.

Assures Plan Good

"I am not familiar with the geography of the Kingston and 25 outlying districts, but I assume that the total area is regarded by members of the various boards of education as an excellent area for a single school administrative unit.

"You have, in protesting the consolidation, cited the financial situation—that of the populous center sharing a financial superiority with 25 outlying districts that may be less able, financially. This kind of protest is usually rejected and, apparently, your board of education believes it will be best for the children and for the entire community if Kingston and the surrounding school districts are consolidated into one strong school district.

"In reply to your opposition to forfeiting the superior financial position for Kingston, it is usually possible to point out that the financial ability of the populous center may in large part be due to the fact that the 25 surrounding districts have been contributing to the center, and they are really responsible for Kingston's excellent financial status. I am inclined, with the facts you have given, to believe that the board of education appears to be making long-range decisions that will help in the provision of an excellent school program for the total community.

Local Responsibility

"It should be recognized, in your further consideration of the school program at Kingston, that education in New York is a state and local responsibility. The federal government and the president have no authority to participate in decisions of the kind reported at Kingston. Appeals should be made to local school board members and to the State Department of Education at Albany.

"If there is any further service we can provide in reference to the schools in your area, please let us know."

The letter was signed by Clayton D. Hutchings, chief of the school finance section.

Urges 12 Troops

Chandler Calls Barracks for SP Waste of Money

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—State Police would work less hours if substations, were abandoned and the force split into 12 troops instead of 6, the division's first superintendent says.

Dr. George F. Chandler of Kingston called barracks and substations a waste of money. He said troopers should be allowed to live close to their assignments and thus be able to commute to work daily.

In an interview Wednesday Chandler said:

Shorter Hours Possible

"If the 12-troop plan were adopted, it would mean a smaller area of patrol for the same number of men. This would result in shorter hours and could very well bring them close to the 40-hour week."

By eliminating substations, Chandler said, troopers now required to sit in offices and answer telephones would be free to do more police work. Nearly a third of the desk-bound troopers could be put on the road, he contended.

His idea isn't new. Chandler said he first mentioned the 12 troops when he was appointed superintendent 40 years ago.

Some troopers and their wives have complained about the hours and working conditions. Troopers now work up to 126 hours a week.

Favors 40-Hour Week

Chandler is a physician. At 85, however, he no longer practices.

He said troopers should have a 40-hour week.

But they must realize, he added, "that they, like doctors, will be often required to work longer. A doctor doesn't stop in the middle of an operation because the clock says he has worked eight hours, nor can a trooper do the same."

Chandler also recommends that the term of office of the State Police superintendent be set at 5 years. "Political appointments," he said, "serve no major purpose because a man can be superintendent one year and out the next."

The superintendent now serves at the pleasure of the governor.

What did he think of the present superintendent, Francis S. McGarvey? "McGarvey is ideal as a superintendent," Chandler remarked.

Port Ewen Fire

a. m. when the fire was discovered.

Assistant Fire Chief Harry C. Jump Jr. told The Freeman that two barrels of anti-freeze had been stored in the barn. The tops of both barrels were blown off, probably causing the explosions heard in the vicinity.

Enveloped in Flames

Jump said that when firemen reached the scene the "whole building was involved in flames." The fire had already burned through the roof.

A passing motorist saw the flames, drove to the fire station, broke the glass on an outside control and blew the siren.

Jump told The Freeman that some 50 or 60 firemen were at the scene with two pumpers and that some 1,000 feet of hose was laid from three hydrants. There was plenty of water on the fire but it had gotten too much start to save the structure.

Jump Praises Firemen

The last equipment returned to the station about 5 a. m.

With the exception of the section of the building where the living quarters were located, the structure was a total loss.

Jump praised the work of the fire company and their hard work at the scene. He reported also that the firemen told him they could hear the new siren without difficulty.

Of his role today, he said:

Saugerties JCC Builds New Cabin At Scouts Camp

A group of Saugerties Jaycees gathered at Camp Tri-Mount, East Jewett, to build a cabin for the Rip Van Winkle Boy Scouts this weekend.

The Jaycees labored all day Saturday and as night fell a 12x12 building complete from foundation to roof stood on the site.

The building party was under the leadership of Walter D. Stapleton, Virginia Avenue, Saugerties. The construction crews under the supervision of Stapleton, Graham H. Barkhuff, 83 Clermont Street and Norman Nitschke organized their work like old hands in the construction business.

All of the materials were precut at the dining hall where power was available for the power saw. The materials were then trucked to within 100 yards of the building site. From this point lumber, supplies and foundation blocks were carried by hand up the mountain trail to the site.

The work party in addition to those already mentioned included Jaycee President Robert L. Jones, Virginia Avenue; William Batchelor, Morris Street; George A. Turner, Harry Hoffman, Churchland Road; and Edward V. Hofler; Ralph O. Skatrud, 12 Park Circle and George J. Duffy of Sawkill.

This cabin is one of four similar cabins to be constructed at the Boy Scout camp this year. The Jaycees of Saugerties have contributed $200 toward this construction and the IBM employes have made a gift of $2,000 for the project.

Fair in Housing Field

Horan pointed out that the American standard of living now stands at an all-time high, that more and more people enjoy more and better food, more and better clothing, better washing machines, refrigerators, air conditioners, radio and television sets, automobiles and many other manufactured products, "but in one important field we have in many instances failed to utilize the goods and services available. We have not only failed to raise the standards of many of the homes and neighborhoods of America, but have let them become increasingly more dilapidated.

"Today there is scarcely a city or large town without blighted neighborhoods, without pockets of abnormally high crime and disease, without heavy traffic congestion, without alarming tax deficit areas, and without at least the threat that an increasing number of families and retail establishments will desert the inner town area in a general exodus to the suburbs."

Cites Problems

He said cities are symbolic of American genius but that within the core there existed in most instances areas which posed problems — the so-called "inner city," areas that are not carrying in terms of tax output their share of the tax return, areas where deterioration of structures has set in, frequently accompanied by excessive overcrowding of people, narrow street patterns, lack of parking, etc.

He said that it was to assist cities in coping with some of these problems that the Housing Act of 1949 was created, providing cities with some of the federal tools that could be made available. These tools are directed toward the conservation of the good areas in a city, the rehabilitation of the declining areas and the redevelopment of the blighted areas. City officials weighing their local problems must first figure out what the city is today and what the city will be in the future. In other words, the city must "take stock of its resources and plan for their conservation or redevelopment."

Would Gain in Taxes

He explained that in numerous instances it had been shown that the anticipated increase in tax revenues from a redeveloped area would offset the city's local share in the urban renewal program within a few years and provide a net increment of tax revenues thereafter. In other words, the city's investment "may pay itself off in a few years and then continue to pay, and who could ask for the opportunity to make a better type of investment?"

Horan pointed out that the question is frequently raised as to what the city could do with land after the blighted areas were removed. "The answer is the land may be reused for any purpose in accordance with the city's general plan. It can be earmarked for residential, commercial, industrial or public reuse.

Explains Application

"Let me go back a moment, however, and touch briefly on some of the mechanics of the local-federal relationship. Once a city has determined to take advantage of the federal tools that are available, they submit to the Housing and Home Finance Agency an aplication for a planning change. With this application they outline an area that they have selected to either clear or rehabilitate, or a combination of both activities.

"If the application is adequate, funds are supplied the city to determine the steps that need be taken to achieve the objectives they have in mind for the area. With these funds they determine the size of the job, acquiring properties, relocating families, demolishing structures, installing new site improvements and preparing the land for sale.

City Pays Third

"If rehabilitation is involved, they determine structures that can be rehabilitated based on their own criteria, structures that for economic reasons must be eliminated, the site improvements that have to be replaced or expanded and what the general neighborhood should look like for the future. In addition, whether the job is one of clearance or one of rehabilitation, or a combination of both, after all plans are completed the city then enters into a grant contract with the federal government whereby the federal government pledges to pay two-thirds of the net cost of achieving the urban renewal plan. In turn, the city pledges to pay one-third of such cost."

Yosman, in brief valedictory remarks, said he was "very happy for the honor bestowed upon me to serve as your president for the past year. It was an experience that will long be remembered by me. There is an old adage that the president does no work but delegates out the various duties. Some people would laugh at this but in our case this adage is true as you will soon see.

Expresses Thanks

"I wish to thank the Women's Guild for its splendid cooperation in serving and preparing meals, Fred Van Deusen and Charles Bell for their fine work on the phoning committee, Jim Little and committee for music and Ladies Night, Clair S. Sheaffer and committee for the George Washington dinner, Jack Crawford for excellent coverage he has given the club, Herb DeKay for projects committee and other members who have cooperated and helped to make this past year a pleasant task for me as president. Once again, I say thanks."

Seated at the speaker's table were Mayor Edwin F. Radel and Arthur Anderson, field representative for federal urban renewal, Region 1.

Wednesday afternoon Mayor Radel, Anderson, Horan and Yosman toured the downtown area, including Sixth Ward, Kingston Point, etc., to discuss the general problem.

Voted It As Alderman

Mayor Radel told The Freeman last night that if an urban renewal plan could be worked out "without extreme cost to the taxpayers, I think it would give the city a tremendous lift, particularly in the downtown areas."

He explained that preparation of such a master plan was prequisite to application for federal funds and that the city would be required, of course, to underwrite the preparation of such a master plan by a firm of planning consultants. When the question of urban renewal in the downtown section arose two years ago Radel, then an alderman, supported it. The Common Council failed to provide funds for preparation of such a plan, however.

In presenting a trophy to the basketball team Schaefer spoke briefly, tracing the evolution of the game of basketball which he described as a great game for young people—both boys and girls. He called attention to a number of changes in the game, such as size of the ball, speed of the game, increase in the number of points scored in each game, etc. He also paid tribute to James Moshier, ministerial assistant, who coached the team.

A quartet of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., presented several numbers. The quartet, known as the "King Tones," was composed of Warren Neals, Dick Fletcher, Hal Purdy and William Lahl.

Esopus to Gain

of Public Works Wednesday to discuss installation of lights on the Eddyville Bridge.

The committee includes Justice of the Peace Allen Dargie, Councilman Sol Rosenthal and Supervisor Mabie.

Supervisor Mabie appointed Councilman Sterling Potter, Justice of the Peace John Beaver, Town Highway Superintendent Paul Mercier and himself to meet with a committee of the Port Ewen Businessmen's Association to discuss the group's house numbering project for Port Ewen.

Other Business

Permission was granted to Esopus Cub Scout Pack to close off the main street in Esopus on Saturday, May 31 for the Scout's circus parade.

Resolutions introduced by Councilman Potter extolling the services to the town by the late Nathan Cole, a former member of the board of assessors, and the late Samuel P. Tinney, former councilman, were adopted by the board and forwarded to the families of the deceased.

The board approved a proposal to contact the State Park Commission regarding the establishment of a state park and camp site along the Hudson River in the Town of Esopus.

Regarding the problem of wild dogs roaming the southern sector of the township, Supervisor Mabie reported that Harold Barton, town dog warden had eliminated some of the dogs and is making efforts to further control the situation.

A complaint was received regarding parking of cars in front of the Town Hall. The board directed the town highway superintendent to install no parking signs in the area.

The meeting was adjourned with a moment of silent prayer in memory of former assessor Cole and former councilman Tinney.

Quiet, Polite Boy Slays Piano Teacher

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A quiet, polite boy — that was the way almost everyone described 12-year-old Joe Grabher.

"An awful thing" was the way a neighbor described the boy chasing his piano teacher from her home and plunging a knife into her.

The teacher, Mrs. Kirke Killian, was dead on arrival at a Little Rock hospital Wednesday.

The 64-year-old widow, who had given lessons to Joe for four years, was stabbed 19 times with a hunting knife the boy wore in a scabbard on his belt, Police Capt. A. M. Haynie said.

Police got conflicting stories.

"She got mad and hit me be cause I made mistakes," Joe said.

Then he said Mrs. Killian had not hit him, and later said he was not sure what had happened.

No one else was in the house.

Expect Sales to Drop

NEW YORK (AP) — Presidents of more than 100 leading companies expect sales this year to average 5 per cent below 1957 and earnings to be down 8.4 per cent, Dun's Review and Modern Industry said today.

The publication said the companies represent a cross section of the largest U.S. industrial concerns.

Ive's Decision

Buffalo, nor Heck, a Schenectady resident, has shown any interest in the U. S. Senate.

The GOP gubernatorial candidate will have to run against Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman, who says he will seek a second term.

Is Boost for Heck

Both parties will nominate their candidates for these and other statewide offices at state conventions Aug. 25 and 26.

In withdrawing from the Senate race, Ives boosted Heck for the governorship. He said the veteran Assembly speaker was "best qualified" to be governor.

Ives and Heck are intimate friends. Ives served as majority leader in the Assembly for 10 years under Heck. He was speaker himself for one year, just before Heck took over.

Ives told a news conference in Washington that he was retiring because his health would not stand the strain of another campaign.

Reluctant Decision

"I have reluctantly reached this decision on advice of my physician, which I am constrained to follow," he said.

Ives, 62, has been suffering from high blood pressure, nosebleeds and swollen ankles.

It has been generally known that Ives was in ill health. But he had hinted several times that he would run again and most GOP leaders expected he would seek a third term.

Consequently, there has been little discussion of potential successors and no attempt to groom a candidate to run in his place.

Ives said his decision was "irrevocable."

He was feeling pretty good, Ives said, but if he were to run he could not conduct "the all-out, gruelling campaign which would be required."

Wants to Be Fair

"Were I to conduct anything less than this kind of campaign," he added, "I would be unfair to the Republican Party, to the people of New York State, and to myself."

Ives was asked what he considered his most outstanding achievement in the Senate. He replied, with a grin: "I don't know as I've had an outstanding achievement."

Ives added, however, that he thought that his founding of the New York State School of Industrial and Labor Relations at Cornell University was the "most outstanding achievement" of his public career. Ives was the school's first dean.

The senator said he planned to live in New York City after his retirement. He is chairman of the board of the City Title Insurance Co., which has its headquarters there. He said he intends to continue in the post.

Son to Officiate At Ordination of Father on Sunday

REV. R. E. HUGHES

Only twice before in the history of the Methodist Church in this country has a son officiated at the ordination of his father. On Sunday, the Rev. Ralph E. Hughes, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, Wurts and Hunter Streets, will officiate at the ordination of his father, the Rev. Ralph H. D. Hughes in services at St. Paul's Methodist Church, Wilmington, Delaware.

Oxnam to Preside

Presiding at the ordination ceremonies will be Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of the Washington area, formerly of the New York area.

In the Methodist Church each candidate for ordination must have a "sponsoring elder" as well as a bishop for the laying on of hands. Often, a father will act as sponsoring elder for his son, if the son follows him into the ministry. The reverse situation, however, is rare.

The Rev. Ralph H. D. Hughes has long been associated with church work, being active in choir work as well as other phases of parish activities. He recenty became a lay preacher and began his study for the ministry. He is now serving the Stanton Methodist Church, in a suburb of Wilmington, Delaware.

Completing Studies

The Rev. Ralph E. Hughes served as pastor in the Peninsula Conference of the Methodist Church before coming to the pulpit of the local church last year. At present he is completing his PhD study of philosophy at Columbia University.

The service of worship at Trinity Methodist Church at 11 a. m. Sunday will be conducted by Dixon McGrath. McGrath, who makes his home in Woodstock, supplied the pulpit of Trinity while the church was without a pastor.

The Salvation Army has 4 million recruits working in its missions throughout the world.

Since 1948, the American Bible Society has published 75 pocket gospels in 16 languages.

Drug Stocks Show How Research Pays Off in New Product Development

Q. A druggist in Indiana writes, "I'm a small town pharmacist who has seen some remarkable changes in the drug business since the war. I've seen the wonder drugs come in and my business grow by leaps and bounds from this source. I guess I was too dumb to tie in the new products that I was selling with the stock of the companies that made them. Do you think it's too late to buy stocks in the pharmaceutical group?"

A. If you will allow me to say so, I suspect that you were not too dumb but simply too busy. That's an occupational hazard that I suffer from myself. Also perhaps you have been so close to the picture that the background has eluded you. Pharmaceuticals have shown amazing growth since the war, interrupted only in 1952 and 1953 when the price of some antibiotics, mainly penicillin, tumbled sharply. The rising trend in sales and earnings has been due almost entirely to new products developed by research. Parke, Davis' Chloromycetin, Merck's Diuril, Pfizer's Terremycin, American Cyanamid's Aureomycin and Carter's Miltown are just a few of the research products that have helped lift their sponsors' earnings.

DRUG STOCKS AMONG THE BEST MARKET PERFORMERS

Of some 50 groups that I follow, ethical drugs showed the best gain in share earnings for the first quarter of 1958 with the exception of the tobaccos which were weighted on the upside by the recovery in Lorillard. Both the ethical and the proprietary drug makers have been among the best market performers this year. I think that they will continue to outpace the market under recession conditions for two reasons. (1) Their earnings should be well maintained even though the recent big rate of gain may be moderated. (2) Continued heavy research expenditures, averaging 5 per cent of sales, are bound to result in further new product development and new revenues.

As to buying these stocks now, that depends on what your investment aim is. If you are buying for near-term profits, I should point out to you that these stocks have risen very sharply in recent weeks. Abbott Laboratories, strong in vitamins and anti-infectives, is up 32 per cent this year. Selling at 16 times 1958 estimated earnings to yield 3.3 per cent, the shares are no longer cheap and may have discounted improvement quite a long way ahead. Merck is in somewhat the same position. J. T. Connor, Merck's president, sees price softening ahead on some drug groups including antibiotics and vitamin B12. But Merck has climbed to a new high around 50 where the yield is 2.8 per cent and the earnings multiplier is 16. I should be inclined to wait for a more favorable buying opportunity in both these stocks. I believe each will increase dividend payments but that this has been well discounted and that there may be some selling on the announcements.

Pharmaceuticals Should Grow

Pfizer is a good stock which has moved up very sharply, and Parke, Davis is up 40 per cent this year. I would not advise you to buy any of the foregoing issues with the idea of making big near-term gains. All, however, must be considered as true growth issues which should be rewarding over a longer period. I would buy these stocks only with a full realization that there may be some intermediate price fluctuations but that over the longer term research will pay off in further new product development. The result should be continued growth which ultimately could lift these stocks into much higher levels.

Under present conditions I favor Parke, Davis as a single purchase. This company, as you know, is a very important factor in the drug industry. Their most important single product is Chloromycetin, an antibiotic used widely against Staphylococcus infection. Revenues from Chloromycetin fell off in 1954 because some side effects were attributed to it. It has since come back strongly and last year accounted for almost one-third of Parke, Davis' sales. I expect earnings to come close to $6 a share this year. Stock sells at a price-earnings ratio of 13½ and yields 3.7 per cent on its well protected $3 dividend. I like the type of accumulation, much of it institutional, that has been seen in the stock. This is a favored growth issue that could, in my opinion, sell moderately higher in 1958.

Soviet Launches

utes and reaching a maximum altitude of 1,168 miles. The weight was announced as 2,919.53 pounds or more than double the 1,120-pound weight the Russians reported for Sputnik II.

The new Sputnik joins three American satellites circling in outer space, the largest of them weighing 30.8 pounds. Russia's two earlier satellites have re-entered the earth's lower atmosphere and disintegrated.

The announcement said the satellite entered its orbit at an angle of 65 degrees to the equatorial plane, indicating it will cover almost the entire inhabited part of the earth from close to the Arctic Circle to just above the Antarctic Circle.

(At Cambridge, Mass., it was estimated that Sputnik III newest and largest satellite should have a life of about six months.

The associate director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, Dr. Allen J. Hynek, added that the satellite may be visible in many parts of the United States in the evening twilight tonight.)

The announcement said the rocket which lifted the Sputnik aloft broke off and itself went into orbit close behind. No indication was given of the size.

The satellite was described as 5 feet 7 inches wide at its base and 11 feet 9 inches high. That would be large enough to be seen from earth with the naked eye under proper lighting conditions.

The three U.S. satellites circle the globe in a narrower band that extends about half as far on either side of the equator. Two of them, Explorer I and III, are tube-shaped objects about 80 inches long and the third, Vanguard I, is a sphere 6.4 inches in diameter.

Sputnik I, a sphere carrying only instruments, was announced by the Soviets as weighing 184 pounds and the dog-carrying, cone-shaped Sputnik II was reported to weigh about 1,120 pounds.

The orbit time and maximum height of Sputnik III is about the same as that reported for Sputnik II. Its radio is transmitting on 20.005 megacycles.

The new satellite's radio signal as rebroadcast by Moscow radio was a repetition of "dot dash dot dot" in a high musical tone.

The satellite carries solar batteries — which last for long periods because they draw their power from the sun — in addition to chemical batteries.

Signals Picked Up

BONN, Germany (AP) — Signals from Sputnik III were picked up today by Bonn University Observatory.

Prof. Friedrich Becker, chief of the observatory, said clear signals were heard on a frequency of 20 megacycles.

Tuna-Cranberry Rounds Are Colorful Luncheon Novelty

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

If you want to serve a "conversation piece" at your next club luncheon, try either of these two very different combinations. They make good main dishes, too, to serve on meatless days.

Tuna-Cranberry Rounds
(Yield: 9 rounds)

Twenty-seven slices enriched bread, ¾ cup tuna, flaked; 3 tablespoons chopped stuffed olives, 1½ tablespoons roasted almonds, ½ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing, 9 slices jellied cranberry sauce, ¼-inch thick, ¾ cup sharp cheese spread.

Cut a 3-inch circle from each bread slice, using a large cookie cutter. Combine flaked tuna, olives, almonds and ¼ cup mayonnaise. Place a slice of jellied cranberry sauce on each of six circles and 2 tablespoons tuna salad mixture on each of six circles. Place the tuna circles over the cranberry circles and top with the plain bread circles. Combine sharp cheese and ¼ cup mayonnaise. Spread 2 tablespoons of the cheese mixture over the top and half way down the sides of the sandwiches. Place sandwiches on a cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 10 minutes, or until lightly browned.

LUNCHEON guests will sit up and take notice when served a dish so delightfully different as these tuna-cranberry rounds.

Mushroom and Pea Casserole With Peanut Topping
(Makes 4 servings)

One-quarter cup butter, 2 tablespoons finely diced onion, ¼ cup flour, 1 2/3 cup milk, 3-ounce can chopped broiled mushrooms, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1/16 teaspoon powdered marjoram, 1 cup chopped salted peanuts, 2 cups cooked green peas, 1 cup cooked julienne carrots.

Melt in butter in small saucepan over moderate heat. Add onion and saute 1 minute. Stir in flour. Add milk, contents of can of mushrooms, salt, pepper and marjoram. Cook, stirring constantly until sauce thickens. Stir in half of the peanuts. Combine peas and carrots which have been cooked until barely tender and place in a well-oiled 1½-quart baking dish. Pour sauce over entire surface, mixing lightly with fork to evenly distribute sauce. Sprinkle remaining peanuts over the top. Bake in preheated 350 degrees F. oven until thoroughly hot and the peanuts are golden brown, about 30 minutes. Serve immediately.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Tuna, cranberry rounds, parsley boiled potatoes, whole baby carrots, split and toasted rolls, lettuce, green pepper and cucumber salad, strawberries, lemon flake cake, iced coffee or tea, milk.

Knowles to Head Northeastern 'U'

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Asa S. Knowles, president of the University of Toledo since 1951, will become president of Northeastern University in Boston next Jan. 1.

Knowles announced his plans Wednesday and said he would stay at Toledo until the end of the year.

Before coming to Toledo, Knowles served for three years as vice president of university development at Cornell University in Ithaca, N. Y. Earlier, he put in two years as president of the now-defunct Assn. of Colleges of Upper New York, which included Champlain, Mohawk and Sampson colleges.

Knowles was on the Northeastern faculty from 1931 to 1942. In his last four years there, he was dean of the College of Business Administration.

Worthless Theft

ELGIN, Ill. (AP) — John P. Knowles parked an old-fashioned kitchen sink he replaced with a new one in the back yard, but someone stole it. He has made the sinknaper a sporting offer. "If this fellow will drop around, I will gladly turn over the two antique faucets, and I won't even ask him any questions," Knowles said.

Bolivia Reports Revolt Checked

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Rebels held parts of oil-rich Santa Cruz Province today but the Bolivian government claimed to have headed off a nationwide uprising.

President Hernan Siles Zuazo ordered troops to the eastern province and declared a state of siege—modified martial law—over the entire country.

The government said the revolt was led by Santa Cruz leaders of the extreme right-wing Falange and the Communists.

An official spokesman said their aim was to stir up a nationwide revolt that would interfere with parliamentary elections in June and prevent the return of former President Victor Paz Estenssoro, who has been ambassador to London for two years. He heads the government MNR party, the National Revolutionary Movement.

Recent riots and demonstrations in Santa Cruz have protested Siles' policy of deposting all revenues from the nationalized oil industry in the federal treasury and leaving none for the provincial government.

A government spokesman identified the revolt's leaders as Communist Carlos Valaverde and Falangist Mario Gutierriez. The spokesman added that many high government leaders had been marked for arrest and President Siles was to have been assassinated.

APPLE TREE

An apple tree in the month of May
Is a thing of joy to behold,
A flower-pot of fairy blooms
Grander than gems or gold.

It stretches out its graceful boughs
Decked with their petals fair,
And all around its fragrant scent
Perfumes the springtime air.

From far and near the humming bees
Come to enjoy its charms;
A bird's nest too you'll likely find
Cradled safe in its arms.

Let others rave about works of art
And scenes from far away,—
I'll feast my eyes on the beauties of An apple tree in May!

Munchausen McGee, uncle of our well-known friend, Fibber McGee, was telling the folks about his adventures in the western provinces of Canada while on a hunting trip.

McGee—I landed my boat on an island and went ashore to pick up some wood to make a fire, and of course, I left my gun in the boat. Well, when I got into about the middle of the island, which was heavily wooded, I walked right smack into one of the biggest grizzly bears I ever saw. Naturally, I had to do something and do it quick. I was standing right under a tree, but the nearest limb was about twenty feet from the ground. Anyhow I jumped for that limb.

Listener—Did you make it?

New Paltz Area Methodist Notes

Aldersgate Sunday

Sunday, in the Methodist tradition is known as Aldersgate Sunday, the Sunday preceding the day which commemorates the anniversary of John Wesley's "heart-warming experience" in a little meeting-place on Aldersgate Street, London. Services are being planned to commemorate the occasion at worship hour in the New Paltz Methodist Church, 8:30 a. m. and 11 a. m. They are being planned by the pastor, the Rev. Willett Porter, in conjunction with those in charge of the music: Robert Brearey, Miss Mary Lou Dunham.

The theme day's services, "Endless Line of Splendor," is taken from the book by Halford Luccock. Excerpts from the book will be used. The hymns of Charles Wesley will be sung. The liturgy will be from the early Wesley services.

Lloyd Ladies Aid

The ladies of the Lloyd Methodist Church, New Paltz-Highland Road, announce their forthcoming ham supper, to be held in the church hall next to the church, Saturday, May 24, at 6 p. m.

Tickets are now being sold by members of the Ladies' Aid, Mrs. Fred Bragg, chairman. Chief of Police Bragg in Highland will also have a supply of tickets.

The Sunday evening youth supper and program which has been held for almost a year now in the New Paltz Methodist Church for junior high, senior high, and college age (Wesley Student Fellowship) young people, has received such a response that it will be continued until the first of July. Young people meet at 6 p. m. each Sunday for supper and program which follows. Junior and senior high youth bring a covered dish and college students supply the money to purchase paper plates, cups, napkins, and the beverage. The program follows at 7 p. m. for each of the groups. Guidance is provided by Miss Marilyn Roe, Miss Jane Holcomb, Peter Jacobs, Mrs. James Connel, Mrs. Walter Roe Jr., and the Rev. and Mrs. Willett Porter.

An invitation is extended by the pastor to young people not already attending to be guests this Sunday evening in the Methodist Church Social Hall.

Nation Loser on All Three Counts

Latin America Violence One of Most Embarrassing Episodes in U.S. Annals

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration apparently had reason to believe Vice President Nixon might run into trouble in Latin America but, misjudging how much, didn't even think of calling off his trip.

If this assumption is correct — and it seems to be, after what President Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday—then the administration stuck its neck out. The result? One of the most embarrassing episodes in American history.

Informants Napping

What's puzzling is why the administration wasn't better informed on the depth of anti-American feeling since the State Department and the Central Intelligence Agency — this country's eyes and ears abroad — have agents everywhere.

Eisenhower himself didn't attempt to blame what happened to Nixon entirely on the Communists for he said "I don't think there is any single . . . there are economic causes."

The President indicated to his news conference that the possibility Nixon faced trouble in Latin America was talked over before he went. Perhaps nothing worse was expected than some anti-American shouts and pamphlets.

Eisenhower was asked by a reporter whether this government had anticipated the demonstrations against Nixon would be as violent as they were and whether, in view of that, any thought had been given to canceling part of his trip.

All Surprised

He said: "No. These things were discussed but no thought was given to canceling Mr. Nixon's visits to these countries. In each case he was invited by the government . . .

"No one, I think, anticipated the violence of — particularly this last riot (in Venezuela) and I think possibly everybody there was a bit caught by surprise."

Everybody here was certainly caught by surprise. Nixon has been thinking of making a good will trip to Europe in the fall. Eisenhower was asked — in view of what happened to Nixon in Latin America — if he thought there was any need for Nixon to reconsider his fall trip.

Eisenhower said: "I wouldn't think so."

It's a pretty good bet that before Nixon goes to Europe — if he goes — the administration will do a lot more thinking about its dangerous possibilities, and a lot more investigating beforehand, than it devoted to his Latin American tour.

Nixon Caught Unaware

Nixon himself apparently never realized the extent of the trouble that lay in wait for him even though he had been cautioned about it.

He had been urged not to go near the hostile students at San Marcos University in Peru but went anyway and was driven back by stones and spit. But when he got to Venezuela and received the same treatment he was more careful.

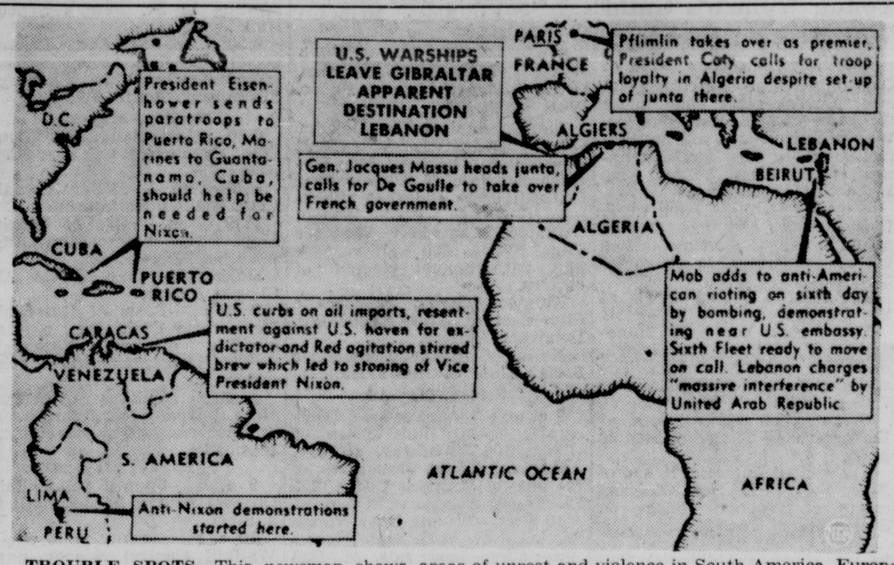

There, to avoid more trouble, he stayed at the American Embassy and left the country by plane Wednesday night ahead of schedule.

He showed personal courage in the face of a violent mob. But the problem of Nixon's visit to Latin America went far beyond the personal courage of one man. It involved American prestige, foreign relations, and ammunition for Red propaganda.

On all three counts the United States was the loser.

Champ Comes Through

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (AP)—Mrs. Betty Baker made it by car to Spartanburg General Hospital with just a few minutes to spare before giving birth to a five-pound, eight-ounce son. Her chauffeur, now a father for the second time, was Buck Baker — national stock car racing champion.

Gets Purple Heart For 1945 Wounds

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The mills of the military grind slowly but they grind exceeding fine.

Capt. Walter A. Hahn suffered face wounds Jan. 2, 1945, when struck by shrapnel from a bomb dropped on the village of Luders, France.

Wednesday night—13 years, 5 months and 14 days later—he was awarded the Purple Heart.

Picks Larchmont Man

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. (AP)—The Westchester County Democratic Executive Committee Wednesday named Philip E. Gilbert Jr. of Larchmont as its choice for congressman in the 26th District.

Gilbert, a New York City attorney, would oppose the Republican incumbent, Edwin E. Dooley of Mamaroneck, if the voters in the primary support the executive committee's choice.

The decision to support Gilbert was made at a meeting of about 45 county Democratic leaders at their headquarters here.

They also designated George G. Annunziata, former Mount Vernon city supervisor, for sheriff, and Mrs. Miriam Jackson, New Rochelle housewife, for county clerk.

County Democratic Chairman William F. Luddy said the designation of a candidate for the 27th Congressional District — in the western part of the county—would be deferred for a short time.

Couple Killed in Crash

PIERREPONT MANOR, N. Y. (AP)—A Canadian couple was injured fatally Wednesday when two automobiles collided in a rainstorm on Route 11 near this Jefferson County hamlet.

State Police identified the victims as Silas R. Allen, 71, and Lillian Irene Allen, 68, of (71 Aylmer Ave.) Ottawa.

John T. Stellakis, 22, of Manlius, was injured. State Police said he was the driver of the second car.

Javits Admits Boner

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits admits he goofed in a brief Senate speech Tuesday.

The New York Republican presented petitions urging that the Senate drop what Javits referred to as a 20 per cent excise tax on the retail sale of fur. The petitions, signed by hundreds of New Yorkers, said repeal of such a tax would stimulate business and help to halt the recession.

The Associated Press, in reporting Javits' speech Wednesday, quoted him as using the 20 per cent figure. Actually, as Javits agreed, the tax is 10 per cent.

"Just put it down to an oversight," Javits remarked.

Six members of Explorer Pack 34 sponsored by Woodstock Rotary Club were dinner guests of the club Monday night, as Rotary resumed weekly sessions at Deanie's, after the district meeting at Grossinger's.

Eugene Rathgeber, pack advisor, and Buddy Marr were in charge. The six guests were: Homer Foster, Kappy Foster, Robert Foster, Edward Varney, Leon Hood and Fred Strickland.

Mervin Doremus was chairman for the program which also included a speech by George Flemming safety supervisor of the New York Telephone Co., who showed a film on safety. The meeting was largely attended.

A new local member, John Burlingham, formerly of the Coxsackie Rotary Club, was introduced.

LL Auction Held For Forty Boys

Forty boys were placed up for bids by player agent Milt Combs of the Woodstock Township Little League last night.

Opening game is scheduled Memorial Day at 2 p. m. with the Dodgers against the Giants and Yankees paired with the Indians. Each of the four teams in the league will play an 18-game schedule presently being drafted.

Final tryouts were held Saturday when talent prospects were surveyed by Bob Hastie, Yankees; Rick Romer, Indians; Roger Jones, Dodgers, and Joe Holdridge Jr., Giants.

Seasonal plans were shaped at a board of directors meeting held last week at the home of Alex Sharpe Jr., league president.

The Little League field will be located on the Bearsville Flats opposite Banks' service station. Bob Breitenstein and Chet Wolven will be in charge of constructing two buildings — one to be used for storage, the official scorer and public address system, and the other a refreshment stand.

The field will be fenced in. A power line pole will be placed on the field this week and construction will begin Saturday.

Frederick Imhoff will serve as moderator and, if time permits, will discuss discipline among the students. The program will also include installation of officers for the coming year. Mrs. Raymond Gilkey of Kingston will be the installing officer. Refreshments will be served following the meeting in the cafeteria.

Justification of Faith Is Rev. Sands' Topic

One of Martin Luther's basic beliefs, Justification by Faith, is the theme of the Rev. G. Oliver Sands' sermon on Sunday, May 18, at Christ Lutheran Church. He goes back into the minor prophets for the first presentation of the thought that Rabakkuk sets forth in the latter part of the fourth verse of Chapter two. Paul repeats the thought in Romans 1:17 and in Galatians 3:16. The latter reference elaborates by stating that a man is "not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith in Jesus Christ—". Hebrews 10:38 repeats the same idea.

In the "Augsburg Confession" Luther states, "Men cannot be justified before God by their own strength, merits, or works, but are freed-through faith when they believe that they are received into favor and that their sins are forgiven for Christ's sake, who by His death, had made satisfaction for our sins."

"The Necessity of Faith," Heb. 2:4 thus will be the theme of the sermon at the 11 a. m. services on this Sunday after the Ascension. Come to church and renew your faith in Christ.

On May 25 there will be an opportunity for those who have wandered away from God and His church to re-profess their faith and thus publicly become a member of Christ's church once more actively. We all need the church and the church needs all of us. All are welcome.

Man's Spiritual Status Christian Science Talk

The spiritual status of man created in God's image will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in Woodstock.

Scriptual selections in the lesson-sermon on "Mortals and Immortals" will include the following from Luke (17:20,21): "And when he was demanded of the Pharisees, when tniehgkomd the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God should come, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh not with observation: Neither shall they say, Lo here! or, lo there! for, behold, the kingdom of God is within you."

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (476:28-32): "When speaking of God's children, not the children of men, Jesus said, 'The kingdom of God is within you;' that is, Truth and Love reign in the real man, showing that man in God's image is unfallen and eternal."

The Golden Text is from John (3:6): "That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit."

Young Women's Guild Will Meet on Monday

The Church Council meets at the church Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

Youth choir rehearses Thursday at 7 p. m., playing instruments as well as singing. The senior choir rehearsal follows at 7:45 p. m.

The United Lutheran Synod of New York and New England meets at Wagner College on Staten Island, June 2-5.

The pastor's vacation will be in July this year. Hartwick College will arrange for the pulpit to be supplied.

Success of a Failure Is Rev. Wilder's Topic

The Rev. Garnett M. Wilder will preach on the subject: "The Success of a Failure," the marvelous story of John Wesley, the "founder" of the Methodist Church at the Sunday Service at Woodstock Methodist Church. Sunday is Aldersgate Sunday, the anniversary of the Conversion Experience of John Wesley, and a new beginning as a vital preacher for Christ. This sermon reminds us of the beginning of the Methodist movement, and a reminder of the challenge and power of our heritage.

There will be a goulash supper at the Shady Methodist Church Hall on Saturday evening, May 17. First serving is at 6 p. m. Tickets are nominally priced for adults and children.

The Commission on Missions of the Shady Methodist Church will present a special program on Sunday, May 18. The program will emphasize the "Lands of Decision" in which Methodists have a particular opportunity for advance in mission work this year. A beautiful and interesting color film entitled "Upriver in Srawak" will be shown. The public is invited.

Tobie Geertsema Taxpayers Speaker

Tobie Geertsema, Independent councilman on the Woodstock Town Board, will be guest speaker at the Tuesday, May 20, meeting of the Willow-Shady Taxpayers Association.

Although the sun is nearest the earth in the winter season of the northern hemisphere, it gives us less heat then because the earth's position is such that the rays come down slantwise and a given amount of heat is distributed over much more surface than in summer.

Miss Mary Anne Skop, Marvin R. Weber Wed at Immaculate Conception Church

Miss Mary Anne Cecelia Skop and Marvin Raymond Weber exchanged nuptial vows Saturday, May 10, at 10:30 a. m. at Immaculate Conception Church with the Rev. Joseph Sieczek officiating.

The Children's Choir of Immaculate Conception Church under the direction of Sister Mary Cecelia sang responses to the nuptial Mass. Musical selections were "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus" and "Mother at Your Feet is Kneeling." Miss Theresa Gehringer was organist.

White carnations banked the main altar with blue and yellow snapdragons decorating the side altars. The bride laid a bouquet of blue and white carnations at the foot of the statue of the Blessed Mother.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Valentine J. Skop of 5 Theresa Lane, was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of white Alencon lace designed with a fitted bodice and long sleeves ending in points over the wrists. The illusion neckline was topped with a mandarin collar trimmed with iridescent sequins. The bouffant skirt of panels of lace over cascades of nylon marquisette ruffles ended in a circular train of lace over satin. Lace panels were trimmed with clusters of seed pearls and sequins. Her veil of silk illusion was trimmed with sequins and gathered to a headpiece of lace. She carried a white prayer book and a white orchid.

Miss Carolyn Skop, sister of the bride was maid of honor. She wore of blue lace and marquisette over taffeta, fashioned with portrait neckline and fitted bodice. Her picture hat of lace was blue and she carried a cascade arrangement of blue carnations.

Attendants were Miss Eileen Reis, Miss Dolores Machione of Glasco and Mrs. Margaret Lawrence of Lexington, N. Y. Their gowns were styled similar to that of the maid of honor in shades of pale green, yellow and orchid. They carried matching cascade bouquets of carnations.

Bernadette Skop, sister of the bride, was flower girl in a white gown with wide lace bertha collar. Her skirt was styled with lace ruffles. She carried basket of daisies festooned with ribbons in colors matching the gowns of the other attendants.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Weber of Harrold, South Dakota, chose Richard English of Bedford, Mass., as best man.

Ushers were Ray VanBuren, a cousin of the bride, Thomas D. Finnegan of Carbondale, Pa., and E. G. Vaille Jr. James Raskoski, a cousin of the bride, was ringbearer.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and attended Our Lady of Angels Academy. She is employed by IBM at Lexington, Mass.

Mr. Weber is employed at IBM, Lexington, Mass., and served four years with the U. S. Air Force.

Importance of Improving Living Standards For Nurses Stressed at Rochester Parley

The president of the New York State Nurses Association, Miss Esther M. Thompson, R. N., Rochester, on Monday, May 12, termed as "indispensable" the need for nurses to attain a living standard and security commensurate with the preparation required of them for the essential service they must render. At the same time she rejected any act such as a strike, as a means of improving the living standard.

Miss Thompson spoke at the opening session of a two day conference on economic security being held at Cornell University, Ithaca. It is sponsored by the New York State School of Industrial and Labor Relations in cooperation with the professional nurses' organization, to explore the economic problems of the nursing profession and to determine future activities of the New York State Nurses Association.

"The New York State Nurses Association, through its economic security program, aims to help every nurse attain a living standard and security commensurate with the professional preparation required of her and the essential professional service she renders," the NYSNA President stated. "This is indispensable if we are to recruit and retain qualified nurses sufficient to meet the increasing health needs of our community."

"Our program is based on the premise nursing is a profession; economic security must be improved by organization and education; and these must be directed at those objectives which will guarantee the best possible nursing service," she said.

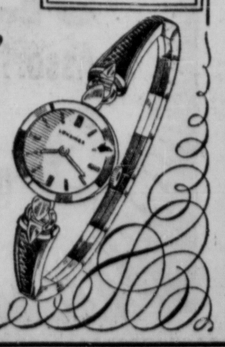

"As its ultimate object is satisfactory nursing service, our program is dedicated to uninterrupted patient care of the highest possible quality. It therefore, emphatically rejects every act, such as strike, inconsistent with their dedication. At the same time, it affrms that this rejection obligates employers to deal justly with nurses through their authorized professional representatives," Miss Thompson concluded.

Twenty six registered professional nurse members of the NYSNA District Associations are attending the Conference. They will participate in group discussions and hear talks from members of the faculty of the New York State School of Industrial and Labor Relations at Cornell University.

SHE PREFERS PEARLS

Dear Mrs. Post: Since I dislike diamonds, I have completely dismissed the idea of a diamond engagement ring. My mother is very upset over this and thinks that I should have a diamond ring, Am I correct in assuming that there are other items besides a ring that can be given as a token of one's engagement? I am partial to pearls and would very much like to have a pearl necklace instead, or if I must have a ring, I would prefer a pearl ring, even though this is not my birthstone. Will you please let me hear from you as my engagement is going to be announced soon and I would like to get this settled?

Answer: You can have any piece of jewelry that your fiance is able to give you. Unlike a wedding ring, an engagement ring is not necessary.

Graduation Dresses

Dear Mrs. Post: At previous graduations, the class always wore caps and gowns. This year the girls would like to wear long white dresses instead. However, the exercises will take place at a morning hour and the question has been raised as to whether long dresses would be proper in the morning. Will you please advise us?

Answer: Long dresses are proper at graduation whether the exercises take place in the evening or in the morning.

Inviting Sisters' Friends

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know if it would be proper for my sister to send invitations to several of my husband's and my friends to her forthcoming wedding, or might it seem like a bid for wedding presents? These friends know my sister only slightly but they are close friends of my husband and me who are by the way in the bridal party. I would appreciate hearing from you.

Answer: There is no reason why your sister may not most properly invite these friends to her wedding, and no present could be required because of such an invitation.

WAC Celebrates 16th Anniversary Today in States

The Army's teenaged distaff corps is growing up. Today the U. S. Women's Army Corps celebrates its "sweet sixteen anniversary.

Formed early in 1942, during World War 2, to add womenpower to the Army's team, the Women's Army Corps has won a place in history, leaving a legacy of honor and pride to the thousands of young women who have served in war and in peacetime.

The Women's Army Corps has never been happier than it is today in its new $7,000,000 Center at Fort Mc Clellan, Ala., an old Army fort which took to skirts and pink ruffles in 1954. Nucleus of the WAC, the center receives women who are processed, classified, and trained for Army life there. The cream colored WAC barracks, which look like college dormitories, include snack kitchens, modern laundries, luxurious bathrooms, smart television lounges and an inviting date room where the girls may have their boyfriends call, and wait in comfort for their dates. This realistic attitude of treating women as women reflected in ever-increasing efficient service to the nation. Today 10,000 WACs work side by side with soldiers of the U. S. Army, thus adding a needed link in the strong chain of the country's defenses.

The WAC today offers young women 18 through 34 an opportunity to serve their country, to receive job training, to travel all over the world, to attend Army specialized schools as well as benefits of soldier service. To the young women college graduate, it offers opportunity to serve as a WAC officer in ten major fields including personnel, public information, finance, special services, intelligence and education.

Zsa Zsa Warns Solon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Zsa Zsa Gabor says she'll sue Rep. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) for slander if he repeats outside of Congress his remark that she "apparently is the most expensive courtesan since Madame De Pompadour."

Hays made the remark Wednesday during House debate on the foreign aid bill. He was referring to expensive gifts given Miss Gabor by Lt. Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr., son of the Dominican Republic's strong man.

Speaking through a public relations firm, Miss Gabor a few hours later challenged Hays "to come out from behind the congressional walls of immunity and repeat his statement about me."

T-Men Seeking Fund Records of Barbara's Firm

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—Federal tax agents are trying to obtain financial records of the bottling company formerly owned by Joseph Barbara, host to the Apalachin gangland meeting.

The Internal Revenue Service has served Barbara's son, Joseph, Jr., with a summons calling upon him to produce the firm's cancelled checks for 1952 through 1957.

Must Show Cause

The move was disclosed Wednesday night, when Federal Judge Stephen W. Brennan confirmed that he had issued an order directing the government to show cause by noon Monday why the summons should not be vacated. The order had been sought by the younger Barbara.

Brennan said the summons had been issued recently. He declined to say just when.

The Barbaras sold the Canada Dry Bottling Co. Inc. of Endicott last month to Carl Touhey of Albany for more than $250,000.

The elder Barbara is seriously ill. He suffered his fourth heart attack in less than a year the day after State Police broke up the barbecue he staged for 60 top mobsters and their pals at his palatial home in Apalachin last Nov. 14.

Surrenders to SLA

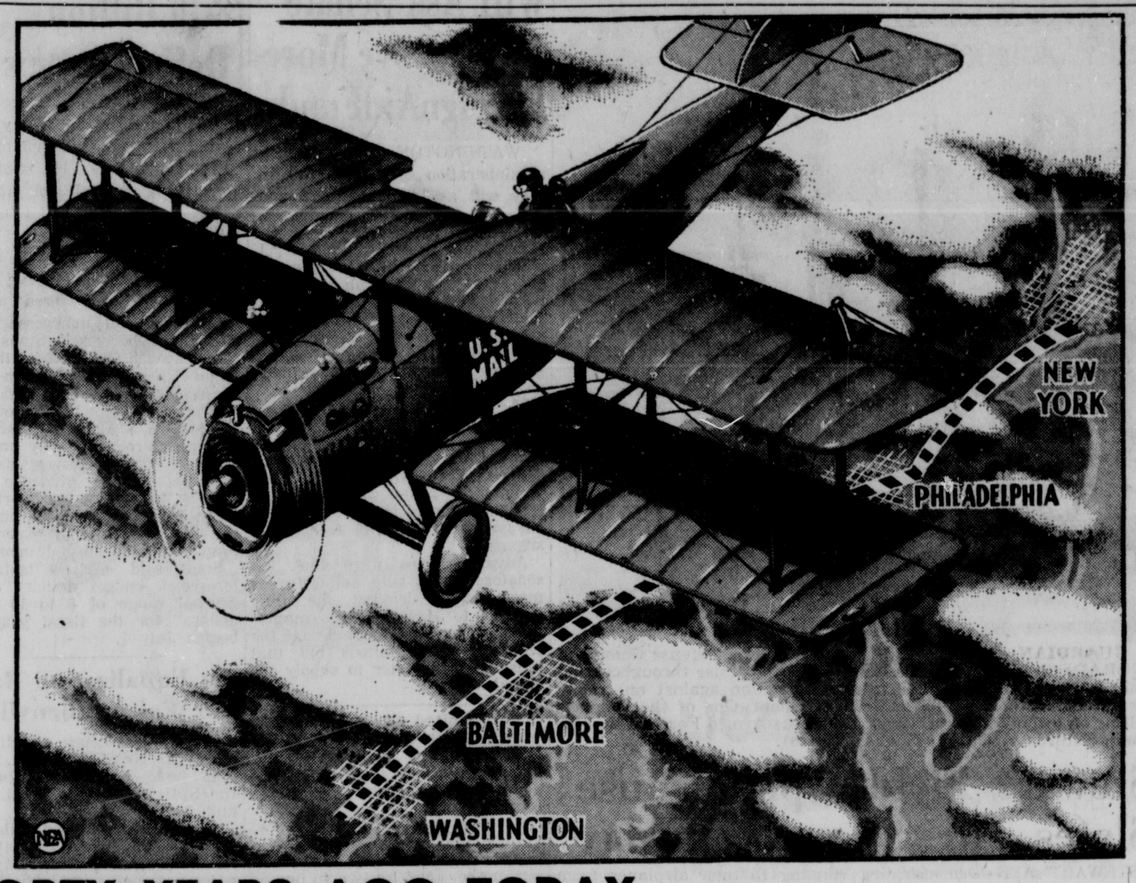

After the raid, Barbara surrendered his beer-distributing license at the demand of the State Liquor Authority.

Harry S. Travis of Binghamton, the younger Barbara's attorney, argued in his motion before Brennan that between 35,000 and 50,000 checks were involved in the bureau's request. He said the IRS had refused Barbara's offer to supply an office where an agent could examine the checks individually.

Travis said also that federal officials had made an income-tax audit of the company's books for 1952-55 and had found nothing wrong.

New Fad

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—One explanation for the latest teenage fad—dancing in one's bare feet—was given by a Buchtel High School girl here. Said she: "My feet hurt."

FORTY YEARS AGO TODAY-

On May 15, 1918 the world's first regularly scheduled air mail service went into operation in the United States. The first flights, daily reports of which thrilled and chilled newspaper readers, were between New York City and Washington, D. C., with a stop at Philadelphia. The flights took about three hours, about three times the time required today. The first planes were furnished by the War Department. Later the Post Office Department purchased six 150 h.p. Standards, like the one depicted above by NEA artist Ralph Lane. Postage for an air mail letter was 24c, but it included special delivery. In August, 1918, the Post Office Department took over from the War Department and continued to operate and further expand the service until turning it over to common carriers in 1927. The early flights carried between 100 and 200 pounds of mail. Only a few million pieces were flown annually. The total air mail volume last year was 1,483,291,000 pieces.

Alert Rotterdam Pupils on Molesters

ROTTERDAM, N. Y. (AP) — Children in Rotterdam schools are being given instruction by police so that they will be alert to molesters.

In a three - page illustrated pamphlet, children are told that the police officer is their friend. You always shall report the following, they are advised:

1. Any stranger who tries to join in your play.
2. Any stranger who asks you to go with him.
3. Any stranger who tries to have conversation with you in the movies.
4. Any stranger who tries to touch you in the movies.

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Don't Call Child Tattler For Reporting Squabbles

If your neighbor claims a slice of your back lot, you will first protest to him. If you then discover him pulling up the raspberry bushes you've planted, you will take him to court — and ask a judge to require him to respect your property rights.

You won't try to recover them yourself. For you are a member of a civilized community. You know you're not permitted to take law enforcement into your own hands by hitting your neighbor until he lets go of your lot.

Everybody will approve of your law-abiding appeal to the court's authority.

But when 7-year-old Marilyn comes rushing to us to complain that her little brother has run away with her doll buggy blanket, we call her a "tattletale." We say impatiently, "Why are you always telling on your brother? Don't you know that nobody likes tattlers?"

We show disapproval of the child who, like the law-abiding adult tattling on his neighbor to the judge, appeals to our authority for the recovery of her property.

It's pretty inconsistent, I think.

If we are bored by children's appeals to enforce their property rights, then they should be allowed to defend them themselves. We should stop pretending that they live in a law-abiding home — and permit them to behave like the old western pioneers who enforced their property rights themselves because there weren't any judges or courts around to do it for them.

But parents who are bored by children's tattling are usually the very ones who are horrified by old western pioneer behavior. When Marilyn takes the law into her own hands and attempts to recover her doll buggy blanket by hitting her little brother, they say angrily, "I don't care what Buddy did to you! Don't you ever dare hit him again!"

So the tattletale finds himself in a spot that hardy, strong-minded pioneers couldn't take. We refuse him redress for his wrongs — and refuse to allow him to redress them himself.

I'll tell you a secret: I think that the parents of chronic tattletales don't care whether their wrongs are rectified or not.

Mary E. Cusack Is Injured in Auto Crash Here Today

Mary Elizabeth Cusack, 18, of 199 Main Street, who was injured early today when the car in which she was riding struck two poles on Albany Avenue, was reported in critical condition today at the Albany Hospital.

Taken to Kingston Hospital at about 3:30 a. m., she transferred in less than three hours to the upstate hospital. She suffered severe head injuries, a fracture and lacerations of the left leg.

Police were notified of the accident at 3:29 a. m., and were told that an ambulance and wrecker would be needed.

The car, owned by Thomas J. Carpino, Jr., of 673 Broadway, headed west on Albany avenue, ripped loose two utility line poles and stopped 85 feet beyond the second pole. Parts of the car were scattered in the road. Police said the car had crossed into the east lane of the street near Harding Avenue.

Officers Edward Leonard and George Deyo were first dispatched to the scene and others were sent there later.

Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., reported interruption of service to 92 of its customers in the vicinity of the mishap for about 50 minutes. A section of one of the broken poles was left hanging several feet from the ground.

Ellenville Elks Entertain 300 At Youth Meet

Over 300 children, their parents and guests participated in an afternoon of games and contests at the Elks Club house grounds, Napanoch this weekend.

This was part of a national youth activities program sponsored by the BPO Elks. The Rev. H. Chilton of St. John's Episcopal Church of Ellenville offered the blessing on the assemblage after which the contestants ranging in age from 2 to 14 engaged in various feats of skill and speed, including, sack races, relay races, egg hunts and pie eating contests.

Members of Ellenville Lodge No. 1971 and their wives prepared and served refreshments to the children who came from all parts of Southern Ulster and Sullivan Counties. Angelo Syracuse directed the activities. The program was prepared by Donald Lewis and J. Timmerman, youth activity co-chairmen.

Speakers of the afternoon included Mayor Eugene Glusker of Ellenville and Exalted Ruler Ernest Montanye. The Benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Father Cunningham of St. Mary's-St. Andrews Church, Ellenville.

Secret Weapon Fired

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A missile — reportedly the Air Force's highly secret Bull Goose guided decoy weapon—was fired from the test center today.

The pint-sized missile hugged the Atlantic and was out of sight in less than five seconds.

The Air Force announced minutes later that a missile was launched but no details were released. Officials usually identify the weapon when announcing a test shot.

The Bull Goose, produced by Fairchild Corp., is one of the newest weapons in the U.S. arsenal designed to deceive the enemy by simulating the return, or echo, of an airplane on a radar screen.

The Bull Goose's primary mission will be to take out enemy radar, thus allowing either aircraft or long-range missiles with nuclear warheads to roar in on target unmolested.

The panel of specialists will include William Mills, Paul Wooley, Peter Hoffman and Bernie Nassau.

Kurtz cold storage is located north of the Ireland Corners sponsored by the Extension Service and William H. Palmer, county Agricultural agent, urges all fruit growers of the county who are interested in this program to be on hand promptly.

Congress Seems Against Plan to Cutback Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sentiment appeared to be solidifying in Congress today against any general tax reduction and in favor of cuts in some excise levies.

Four key senators said in separate interviews they believe excise reductions would give a greater stimulus to the economy than action to lower income taxes.

See Ike Opposed

President Eisenhower was described by an influential Republican senator as indicating at White House meetings that he is opposed to a general tax cut. This Republican said the President always brings up the issue of where the money is coming from to pay for government expenses if taxes are reduced.

This sort of thinking appeared to be taking hold among some Democrats.

Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla), a member of the Senate Finance Committee, said he will support action to revise the 10 per cent levy on automobiles, the 3 per cent on freight and the 10 per cent charge on passenger transportation.

Ives Discounts Cut

Kerr predicted corporation taxes will be held at 52 per cent and that individual income levies will remain unchanged.

Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-NY) discounted chances of a general tax cut this year.

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn), a finance committeeman, said he doesn't find any sentiment, particularly from his state, for a general tax reduction. He said he would favor readjustment of the excise levies.

Sen. John Bricker (R-Ohio) said he will vote to wipe out all of the excise levies except those on tobacco and liquor.

Other Developments

In other developments Wednesday:

1. In New York, the National Industrial Conference Board reported that consumer prices rose 3.2 per cent above the level a year ago to set a new high for the 24th consecutive month. Food prices rose most.

2. The Federal Reserve Board said production in mines and factories dropped in April for the eighth straight month, reaching the lowest point since 1954.

3. The Senate, as a means of increasing automobile sales, passed a bill to require that all new passenger cars carry the manufacturer's suggested retail price along with prices of extras and accessories.

To Parachute Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army said today eight planeloads of paratroopers returning from a quick trip to Puerto Rico would parachute down upon reaching their home base at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Approximately 500 men, 101st Airborne Division, were flown to Ramey Air Force Base, Puerto Rico, Tuesday. They were sent for possible duty if Venezuela had asked help in protecting Vice President Nixon.

Venezuela did not, and the troops started home today.

The announcement said that upon arrival over their base the men from the first eight planes will make a parachute jump over the Ft. Campbell area.

Reserve Decision On Motion to Set Verdict Aside

In a ten to two verdict, the jury at 9 p. m. Wednesday returned a verdict for plaintiffs in a $50,000 negligence action brought by Mrs. Betty Macia and her husband, Arne Macia of Kerhonkson against Leslie E. Rathburn of Accord. Mrs. Macia was awarded $4,500 and her husband $1,000 for the head injuries which Mrs. Macia suffered on July 30, 1956, in an accident at Kerhonkson.

Two of the jurors who did not concur in the verdict, agreed as to the negligence of defendant but objected to the amount of the verdicts by the other ten jurors.

Philip Korn appeared with N. LeVan Haver of counsel for plaintiffs and Arthur B. Ewig appeared for defendants.

Haver today moved to set aside the verdict as insufficient and also for an opportunity to submit a memorandum to the Court. Justice Schirick reserved decision on the motion to set aside the verdict and permitted filing of memorandum and gave defense counsel an opportunity to reply.

Trial of a negligence action brought by Kenneth Adin of Chambers Street against Epheum Langunoff to recover for injuries to his back and neck in a motorcycle accident on August 7, 1957, was taken up today. Adin, 27, was operating his cycle in Woodstock at the time of the accident. He was employed on a boat at the time. Aaron E. Klein appears for plaintiff and Francis X. Tucker of Cook & Cook for defendant.

Crime Commission Hears Vital Data On Utica: Lane

NEW YORK (AP)—A delegation of officials and citizens from Utica has given the State Crime Commission a "very interesting" picture of the crime situation in the Upstate city.

This characterization of various viewpoints came from the commission chairman, Myles J. Lane.

Lane talked with newsmen Wednesday after the commission held separate conferences for six hours with members of the invited delegation, who have special knowledge of conditions in Utica.

More Study Needed

Lane said the four-man commission will need additional study to determine its next step. Gov. Averell Harriman has asked the commission to expedite its inquiry on Utica and to advise him of what further steps are necessary.

The delegation's visit to the commission's headquarters developed a difference of opinion over whether a special prosecutor is needed in Utica.

Mason C. Taylor, executive editor of the Utica Observer-Dispatch and the Utica Daily Press, told newsmen outside the conference room that he believed a special prosecutor and extraordinary grand jury are needed because of the scope of the crime problem.

Takes Opposite View

James M. Liddy, district attorney of Oneida County, of which Utica is the county seat, took an opposite view. He said that if evidence of crime and corruption is produced after adequate investigation, the conditions "can be handled fully by the office of the district attorney and any regular jury in Oneida County."

Mayor John T. McKennan had no comment for newsmen on his talk with the commission.

In describing the commission's session on Utica, Lane said:

"We got a very comprehensive picture. . .on the basis of what we got today, we will have to study this situation, and after study we will have to determine where we go from here. . . .We will talk to more people and will study documentary records."

Lane said the commission will meet again next Tuesday and Wednesday. Wednesday's session will include witnesses on Utica conditions, but their testimony will not be limited to the city. He declined to identify the witnesses to be called.

Mrs. Sitzer has taught in the Kingston City Schools for 14 years. She will be missed as a member of the professional staff at School No. 7 where she has ben a kindergarten teacher for 12 years.

Mrs. Sitzer's resignation was accepted by the board of education at their last meeting with regret.

J. D. Dole Dies

HONOLULU (AP) — James Drummond Dole, 80, founder of Hawaii's 116-million-dollar pineapple industry, died Wednesday about five hours after suffering a heart atack at his Honolulu home.

Born in Boston, Mass., the son of a Unitarian clergyman came to Hawaii in 1899 when he was 22.

He started growing pineapples for canning in rural Oahu and organized the Hawaiian Pineapple Co. in 1901 with 16 employes. The firm now has about 3,300 year-around workers and up to 7,800 in the packing season.

GUARDIAN ANGELS—North American Air Defense Command (NORAD) "Nike" guided missiles in operational use throughout the United States are ready for retaliatory action against an enemy air attack on the North American continent. One of the "angels" will be on display in the Stewart Air Force Armed Forces Day program, Saturday. (Official NORAD photo).

Stewart Field Open House Slates Air Show Saturday

STEWART AFB—Demonstrating the flexibility and power of the United States Air Force, an air show will highlight the Armed Forces Day Open House program at Stewart Air Force Base Saturday.

Scheduled to start at 12:13, the air show will conclude at 5 p. m. with ground demonstrations, displays and tours of SAFB installations which will be simultaneously open to the public.

Jump Exhibition

Featuring a parachute jumping exhibition, several flyovers, a KC-135 and B-52 refueling in flight, a contrasting "scramble" between an airplane similar to a WW I fighter and a jet, maximum takeoffs and associated activities. Open House will conclude with static displays and visits to base buildings.

Col. William C. Clark, commander of Stewart Air Force Base and the 329th Fighter Group, extends the following invitational statement to the public:

"It is a distinct privilege for the personnel of Stewart Air Force Base to have you visit and observe our many activities, displays, aircrafta nd equipment.

"The primary mission of this base is Air Defense. The 329th Fighter Group (ADC) maintains aircraft crews on alert 24 hours a day every day of the year, ready to takeoff—"scramble"—in a matter of minutes to intercept and destroy attacking enemy aircraft."

Two Will Bail Out

Two members of the Goodhill Parachute Club, Woodbury, Conn., will simultaneously bail out of their airplane in a rarely executed double exit, falling freely for 40 seconds from 8,500 feet and will open their parachutes at 2,000 feet. They will repeat their performance later on in the afternoon.

An Aero Club version of a World War I Aeronca "Champion" will compete with a F-86L jet in a satirical "scramble." The Aid Defense Command's rapid take-off capabilities with pilots running to their airplanes from standby status to intercept "enemy" aircraft. In the World War I "scramble" the pilot and his gunner, wearing old flying apparel, will man their fabric, hand-cranked aircraft with armament of that era, including rifles, and sidearms.

A T-33 shooting star jet airplane will be thrust into the air by two JATO rockets. Representing other branches of the Armed Forces, an Army helicopter and a Navy blimp from Lakehurst, N. J., will also participate in the aerial exhibition. Fire fighting apparatus demonstrations will be held and high speed passes by F-86L's and T-33's will conclude the air show.

Static Display

The public will get a closer look at various type aircraft on static display, that help maintain the air defense for peace. Open to the public will be the base theater with continuous movies, the link trainer building, the MARS station, the parachute shop, base operations, the weather station, the radar approach control system, in addition to base headquarters, its cafeteria, library, chapel and service club. The F-86L simulator will also be open for visitors.

Not for Senate: Hall

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Leonard W. Hall today took his name out of consideration for the U. S. Senate.

Beginning a two-day Upstate swing in quest of support for the Republican nomination for governor, Hall told reporters at Albany airport:

"I am not interested in any way in running for the Senate."

He declined to express any preference for possible candidates for the seat of Sen. Irving M. Ives, Norwich Republican who announced yesterday he would not seek re-election.

Earlier in New York City, Hall said that Ives would have won had he chosen to run, but that the party would win anyway.

Will Ask Senate To Approve More ForeignAidFunds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eisenhower administration sources said today they will ask the Senate to vote more for foreign aid than the $3,603,000,000 authorized by the House for the year starting July 1.

House passage of the big measure by a 259-134 rollcall vote Wednesday night tossed the issue to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Chairman Theodore F. Green (D-RI) scheduled closed sessions to write a bill starting next Tuesday.

The House knocked down all new money-cutting moves by lopsided margins. The bill had already been trimmed by the Foreign Affairs Committee 339 million dollars below what President Eisenhower said is the least needed for American and free world strength.

Advance signs were that the senators would vote authority for more funds, leaving the final amount to House-Senate compromise Opponents focused on the separate appropriations bill that must be voted later to supply the actual cash.

8-10 Billion Deficit Looms

WASHINGTON (AP)—Budget Director Maurice Stans today forecast a 1959 budget deficit of 8 to 10 billion dollars. He said this calls for a critical look at anti-recession programs that would entail more spending.

"The current recession should not be allowed to stampede us into hasty, ill-considered actions which will add unnecessarily to our future burdens," Stans said.

In a speech prepared for the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, the budget chief said:

"Our income is down, our defense costs are up, anti-recession measures are under way and deficits of serious proportions confront us. Simple prudence compels us to rethink our work program and look critically at each one of the additional expenditure proposals being urged upon us."

Stans said officials tentatively foresee a budget deficit "in the general range of 8 to 10 billion dollars" for the fiscal year that begins July 1.

Probation Term Fixed for Youth On Drunk Charge

Special City Judge John J. Schick today suspended imposition of sentence on Carl Miller, 17, of 192 TenBroeck Avenue, who was arrested Tuesday on a public intoxication charge, and placed him on probation for three months.

Miller was arrested by officers George Dougherty and Raymond Wells after police were notified Tuesday night that someone was lying on a Cornell Street lawn.

Miller said in court today that he had been drinking beer at the Schryver Restaurant, Smith Avenue. A further investigation is to be made by the district attorney's office.

Association Probes

Walter Williams, president of the Ulster County Hotel and Restaurant Liquor Dealers Association, said today that the organization has established an investigating policy where its membership is concerned after reported sale of alcoholic beverages or liquor to minors. In this case, he said, the reported sale was not at a place of a member of the association.

Judge Schick said that Miller is to report to a probation officer once a week during the three months of his probation.

KNOW YOUR MISSILES— 6

Shape of things to come in military rocketry is suggested in the background of the list of missiles, above. Filling a variety of functions, all are in different stages of development within the three services. The two decoy missiles, Bull Goose and Green Quail, are interesting in that Fiberglas will be featured in their construction. The trend to solid fuel, because of its greater handling ease and readiness, is indicated in Minuteman and Pershing. Minuteman, an ICBM, is well-named. It is designed to be placed in underground installations, armed, aimed at target and pushbutton-ready. Titan, liquid-fueled, is expected to be ready in 1960, will supplement or replace Atlas.

Matter of FACT

Herman Melville, famed author of "Moby Dick," ran away to sea at the age of 18. In 1841, he sailed around Cape Horn on a voyage to the South Pacific. The voyage had lasted a year and a half when Melville, tired of the captain's harsh treatment, deserted the ship on the island of Nukahiva. He was captured by cannibals and held prisoner for four months until he escaped, in a hail of native spears, to an Australian ship.

Persistent Burglar

HILLSBORO, Ore. (AP) — After several thefts at his garage, R. I. Williams decided to give police a hand.

On a ledge over a window through which burglars had entered, Williams put a gallon jug filled with green dye.

Over the window he put a metal sign. He tied one end of a wire to the sign. The other end was tied to the trigger of a shotgun pointed at the jug.

Early Wednesday a burglar knocked aside the sign. Williams' device worked swell. The gun went off, the shot broke the jug and down came the dye.

The burglar was persistent. He roamed through the garage, took three cartons of cigarettes and walked away, leaving a string of green footprints.

Bogus Money Ring Broken By Arrests

WASHINGTON (AP)—A ring that allegedly passed thousands of dollars in fake bills in 14 states has been broken up by the Secret Service.

Secret Service Chief U. E. Baughman announced Wednesday that 13 persons had been arrested and that more arrests were expected. He said the investigation began last November when bogus money appeared in Indianapolis.

Baughman said about $23,000 in counterfeit $10, $20 and $50 bills have been passed and that Secret Service agents have seized about $185,000 in fake currency.

The announcement was made after John Wesley Riadon, 41, and William Earl Smith, 30, were arrested at the Nashville, Tenn., airport. Baughman said the two men had $60,000 in phony money in their possession. The Secret Service chief said there had been 11 previous arrests, starting in Atlanta last December.

Baughman said Riadon admitted he made the money near Donelson, Tenn., and that Smith was his principal distributor.

11-Run Inning

Wolven, Elliott and Cowley combined to limit Beacon to five hits, while the Sawyers combed three Beacon hurlers for 17 and were aided and abetted by 12 errors.

Saugerties scored five runs in the first inning and turned the game into a rout with an 11-run barrage in the second frame. Highlight of the explosive rally was a homer by Di Pasquale. Wolven, the starting pitcher, who went four innings, also homered for the Sawyers.

Crewmen Not Superstitious

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The five member colleges of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association are not superstitious.

By inviting eight others to join them in their championship on Syracuse's Lake Onondaga, June 21, they created a 13 crew field. Member colleges Columbia, Cornell, Pennsylvania and guests Boston University, California, Dartmouth, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Princeton, Rutgers, Stanford and Wisconsin will sprint into action.

Some 13 (there's that number again) minutes and three miles later the sweep-swinging champion will be decided.

655 Team Single No Easy Task

Well, if you ask members of the Jones Dairy No. 1 squad in the Central Rec Major, you're apt to get a mixed—and maybe, violent reaction.

They missed the 700 barrier by 45 pins last night in what is believed to be the first under—700 major total since Henry Hudson sailed up the river.

It was accomplished in this manner: Herb Van Deusen 125, Tony La Rocca 139, Al Kieffer 108, Phil Masters 149 and Cosmos Costello 134. It created a greater stir than Richard Howard's 618 (193-208-217) which paced a modest late-season session of the league. Sponsor Addison Jones could not be reached for comment this morning.

Oakland Driver Sets Lap Mark

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A California driver, Ed Elisian of Oakland, in a California car, built by A. J. Watson of Glendale, unofficially broke the Indianapolis Motor Speedway one lap record Wednesday.

The 200-pound Elisian drove the No. 5 Zink Special around the 2½-mile track at 146.914 miles an hour by electric timer. The official record, set in the 1956 time trials for the 500-mile race, is 146.056 by Pat Flaherty of Chicago.

Although Flaherty won in 1956, Californians usually dominate the Memorial Day race and its preliminaries.

Mike Bruhn fired an impressive 36-38-74 to win three points in the No. 1 spot, but Fred Barthel's 38-41-79 netted him only a half point in the No. 2 slot against Richard Markovits who spliced 38-40-78 for the Middies.

Dennis Beaver scored a shutout with his 40-39-79 Rich Barthel had an off day with 43-43-86 to drop three points to Middletown's Ed Golumboski's 42-42-84.

Gone Fishin' Virginia Threat In Preakness

By JOHN CHANDLER

BALTIMORE (AP)—Well, suh, the Virginians have a colt in the Preakness, and a lot of citizens in the Old Dominion state will wager their greenbacks that he will handle the likes of Tim Tam—not to mention Silky Sullivan.

Only one grey won the Preakness until the great Native Dancer stood Baltimoreans on their ears and whipped Jamie K. by a neck in their terrific 1953 duel.

It seems as if 11 or 12 will be entered when the secretary's office opens Friday morning, but the cash outlay may deter a couple. It costs $500 to pass the entry box, and another $500 to start in the great Maryland gallop on Saturday.

Tim Tam at 7-5

Tim Tam, the Calumet Farm's Kentucky Derby winner, figures to start as the favorite at 7 to 5 or shorter. The Main Chance Farm's Jewel's Reward is going to get plenty of support. So will Lincoln Road, who zipped into a big lead in the Florida Derby and was only caught by Tim Tam in the final strides. Lincoln Road also led in the Derby, but Tim Tam zoomed home again in the final sixteenth by a half length.

As for Gone Fishin', he clicked with an easy length and three-quarters victory Monday in the Preakness Prep at a mile and one sixteenth. The Virginian whipped the Christiana Stable's Staysail, who had finished third behind Jewel's Reward in the Pimlico Futurity last November. Staysail is supposed to start Saturday.

The Preakness field in recent years was usually around seven or eight. If a dozen make it Saturday in the race to be televised and broadcast nationally (CBS) from 4:30-5 p.m. EST., the pot will gross $133,950.

George Kell is the only third baseman ever to win the American League batting title. He did it with .342 while with Detroit in 1949. He beat out Ted Williams by less than one point.

Mayor Proclaims Babe Ruth Day

Mayor Edwin F. Radel today proclaimed Saturday "Babe Ruth League Day," and urged "all citizens of Kingston to support and give proper recognition to the Babe Ruth League."

As a national organization, he noted, it "is the parent group to other units all over the country." Kingston, he said, was fortunate to have a unit of the league, which sponsors baseball for youths between the ages of 13 and 15.

Teams represent Kiwanis, the Elks, Rotary, Kingston Police Department, Volunteer Firemen, Knights of Columbus and Veterans of Foreign Wars, who, the mayor said, "contributed financially and actively toward the success of this project, and in so doing, relieve the recreation department of a portion of its burden.

Funds will be needed to promote the program in full, he stressed, and they will be solicited publicly May 16 and 17.

Hogan Hones In Snead Golf

Hogan's last sharpener before the Open June 12 at Tulsa, Okla., is the Sam Snead Festival.

The 72-hole Snead tournament running through Sunday is Hogan's fourth of the year. His only others were the Seminole, Masters and Colonial Invitation.

Snead has taken his own tournament three times out of the 11. There will be 54 other pros besides Hogan arguing for him this time for the major share of the $10,000 prize money.

Dutch Harrison, a two - time Snead winner in 1955 and last year and Ed (Porky) Oliver, the 1956 titlist, are back.

The field is the biggest by far in the history of the tournament and two courses will be jammed with golfers during the last two rounds Saturday and Sunday. Each pro will have three amateurs as partners in a separate 36-hole contest.

Liston Sparkles In Kayo Victory

CHICAGO (AP) — It is refreshing these days to see a heavyweight who looks like he can fight.

Sonny Liston of Philadelphia eventually may prove to be the prospect needed to pump life into the division.

The unranked, 26-year-old former St. Louis Golden Gloves champion made his national TV debut in Chicago Stadium Wednesday night. He disposed of Cuba's Julio Mederos with a third round technical knockout to register his 12th straight victory and his 18th in 19 pro starts.

For all of his 204 pounds, Liston displayed poise, grace, power and confidence — and a head-rocking left jab that cut through Medero's lower lip.

It was this blood-flowing injury that halted the scheduled 10-rounder with the Cuban still in his corner as the bell sounded for the third round. Dr. Irving Slott of the Illinois Athletic Commission advised referee Bernard Weissman to stop the fight.

Mederos' record now is 25-19-3. He has scored 14 knockouts but didn't have a chance to show his punching ability against Liston.

Kluszewski Spark In Pirate Drive

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Led by the revitalized Ted Kluszewski, the rampaging Pittsburgh Pirates — once the doormats of the National League — are breathing down the necks of the world champion Milwaukee Braves.

Only 13 percentage points separate the Pirates and the first place Braves after Kluszewski contributed two timely hits Wednesday night in helping defeat Cincinnati 5-4. It was the Pirates' sixth straight victory and 15th in the last 19 games.

"The significant factor of our success has been our fine pitching," Manager Danny Murtaugh said, "but you got to give hitting a pat on the back. Kluszewski has been the bulwark of our attack."

Kluszewski has hit safely in the last nine games. The big first baseman has collected 13 hits in his last 36 appearances at the plate including four home runs and 13 runs batted in. His batting average has jumped from .217 to .280.

Billy Haughton, 34, of Brookville, N. Y., led harness drivers in money won for the fifth straight time in 1957. His horses won $586,950 during the year.

HIT BATSMAN—Gino Cimoli hits the dirt showing that the outfielder knows he's been struck by a pitch made by Mike McCormick of the San Francisco Giants. The catch is Bob Schmidt. The picture also shows that there can be empty seats in the Los Angeles Coliseum. Dodgers are in dumps.

Expect No Rhubarbs For Caracas Tennis

Cards Win Seventh Straight

Donovan Hurls 2nd Straight Win To Beat A's, 4-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's been a long time coming, but the Chicago White Sox pitching staff finally has a healthy look now that Dick Donovan has won his second in a row with a neat four-hitter.

The big right-hander, who lost his first three, gave up nothing but singles and had a one-hit shutout for seven Wednesday night as the White Sox made it two in a row over Kansas City 4-1.

Donovan's five-strikeout job followed an easy 9-2 victory by Early Wynn the night before and gave the White Sox staff two consecutive complete games for only the second time this season.

The best pitching in the American League, however, still is being done by the New York Yankees. The champs gained their largest lead of the season, four games, Wednesday with a 1-0 decision over Baltimore as Bob Turley (5-0) blanked the Orioles for the third straight time. It was the sixth shutout by the Yankee staff.

Use Eight Pitchers

Cleveland used eight pitchers in a 9-8 victory over Detroit as Ray Boone's boner killed a Tiger rally in the ninth. Boston trimmed Washington 7-5.

Turley spun a four-hitter for his fifth complete game. Al Pilarcik, who singled in Turley's one-hit, 2-0 victory over Baltimore April 26, had two hits Wednesday for the Orioles, who haven't scored in 23 innings.

Dick Gernert's homer opened a two-run ninth for the Red Sox, who over-hauled a 5-0 Washington lead with five in the fifth, three on Bill Renna's pinch homer.

Roger Maris belted successive two-run homers for the Indians, the second capping a five-run ninth. Starter Paul Foytack blew a 6-2 Tiger lead, with reliever Tom Morgan the loser. Don Mossi won his second in relief, although Cleveland used three more pitchers in the ninth, when the Tigers scored two. They might have had more, but Boone, unaware that first baseman Mickey Vernon had dropped the ball, thought he was out, flung his helmet into right field and jogged after it while the Injuns tracked him down for the final out.

Gold was so plentiful in colonial Honduras that ranchers used it for shoeing their horses.

Mizell Checks Frisco Giants On Four Hitter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hey! Look at those St. Louis Cardinals! They've swapped a seven-game losing string for a seven-game winning streak, hustling out of the National League cellar to fifth place—the highest they've been since opening day.

They made it Wednesday night, junking San Francisco's winning spurt at six games and tumbling the Giants out of first place 3-2 as Stan Musial belted back to .500 and Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell blanked Willie Mays with a four-hitter.

The Milwaukee Braves regained the NL lead, beating Philadelphia 4-1 as Warren Spahn became the first to win six in the majors. The persistent Pittsburgh Pirates jumped past the Giants into second, hanging up their second six-game streak of the year with a 5-4 decision over Cincinnati.

The Chicago Cubs, who had lost seven straight, beat Los Angeles 7-3. The Dodgers now have lost six in a row.

Spahn Fans Seven

Musial, honored before the game by 18,361 fans and NL President Warren Giles for his 3,000th hit at Chicago Tuesday, made his 3,001st a home run that tied it 1-all in the first. The Man was 3-for-4.

Spahn, like Musial an old pro of 37, gave up five singles, walked three and fanned seven for his 230th victory in the majors. He also started two doubleplays and tripled home a run. Del Crandall and Johnny Logan homered off loser Ray Semproch (3-3) in the second and third.

Vern Law (5-1) won his fifth straight as the Bucs moved within .013 points of Milwaukee. Ex-Redleg Ted Kluszewski and Bob Skinner each had two doubles and a single, and figured in the first three runs as Charlie Rabe lost his second in relief of ex-Buc Bob Purkey. Ed Bailey hit his first homer, a two-run shot, for the Reds.

Jim Brosnan (3-3) beat the Dodgers with a five-hitter and had a one-hit shutout for five. Pewee Reese hit a two-run homer in the sixth for LA, but Lee Walls, 3-for-3, triggered a four-run Cub seventh with his 11th homer, tops in the NL.

Cardinals Farm $50,000 Rookie To Houston Club

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Von McDaniel, the St. Louis Cardinals' $50,000 bonus right hander, and third baseman Dick Gray of the Los Angeles Dodgers were sent down to the minors Wednesday night as the major league clubs cut their rosters to the player limit of 25, except for service returnees.

Other surprises as the clubs met the midnight deadline were the sending down of promising pitcher Curt Barclay by the San Francisco Giants and the outright release of veteran shortstop Roy Smalley by the Philadelphia Phillies.

Gray, 26, injured an ankle a couple of weeks ago, but returned to the lineup and led the Dodgers in hitting (.314) a week ago. He has 14 RBI, third highest on the club, but got one hit in his last 15 at bats. He was optioned to St. Paul of the American Assn.

McDaniel, 19, who came up last year to join brother Lindy McDaniel on the Cards and compiled a 7-5 record with a 3.21 earned run average, was sent to Houston in the Texas League. Von, bothered by arm trouble, worked only two innings this season. He gave up five hits, while walking five and allowing three runs.

Barclay, who had a 9-9 record in 1957, was sent to Phoenix of the Pacific Coast League on 24-hour recall.

Barclay to Phoenix

Smalley, at bat only twice this season, was one of three released by the Phillies. First baseman Pancho Herrera and right-handed pitcher Angelo Li Petri were optioned to Miami of the International League.

The two defending champions also cut off three players.

The Milwaukee Braves sent their three to their Wichita farm in the American Assn. They were rookie right-hander Carlton Willey, right-hander Don Kaiser and infielder Mel Roach, whose one-year status as a returned service man has run out.

The New York Yankees disposed of right-hander Al Cicotte to Washington for an estimated $25,000 and optioned outfielder Bobby Del Greco and infielder Fritz Brickell. Del Greco was sent to Richmond, Brickell to Denver.

Flirting With Death

He was rescued after several hours in the water. Nine days later he was overcome by fumes while applying an enameled cement wall finish in a shower room at Arizona State College at Flagstaff. A school employe found him unconscious. He was pulled to safety.

Boggs, Vickery Set Standards In Hurdle Event

Robert Wolven Boosts SHS Pole Vault Mark

Onteora Central downed Saugerties High in a dual track meet in which three school records were shattered, 57-47, Wednesday on the Saugerties cinders.

Norman Boggs of Onteora scored the only double of the day, a record-breaking 22.6 seconds in the 180 low hurdles and a 5 foot 1 inch high jump.

Robert Wolven of Saugerties upped his school mark in the pole vault to 9 feet, 6 inches. He recently set the record at 9 feet in the relays.

Neher Cops Century

George Neher of Saugerties took the 100 yards in 10.9 seconds, with Ed Gilligan of Onteora taking the 220 in a 24 second clocking.

Lou Saxon of Saugerties ran the mile in 4 minutes, 51.5 seconds. The Saugerties quartet of Dungey, Sweeney, Vickery and Neher swept to victory in the 880 relay in 1 minute, 41 seconds.

Onteora dominated the field events, winning four of the five events. Evers heaved the shot 36 feet, 6 inches; Bremer won the discus with a toss of 117 feet, 8¾ inches. Boggs completed his double in the high jump and Tom McCrosson leaped 18 feet, 3 inches for first place in the broad jump. Robert Wolven's record breaking effort in pole vault gave Saugerties its only victory in the field events.

Corning Leads NY-Penn League

By The Associated Press

It looks as if Corning has found a home at the top of the New York - Pennsylvania Baseball League.

The Red Sox moved in last Monday, ousting Wellsville, and evidently plan to stay. Wellsville came knocking at the door Wednesday night but Corning slammed it shut 9-1. The unfriendly act was performed at Wellsville.

Righthander Bob Heffner captured his third victory of the season against no losses. Jack Creed had three hits in five trips to the plate, including a two-run triple in the fifth.

Auburn cut off a Batavia victory string of three with a 9-6 triumph at Batavia. Six of Auburn's runs were belted in by Milt Campo. Campo's seventh - inning double with the bases loaded scored three. In the ninth he homered with two men on base.

Just Lucky, Says the Man

"Lame-Back" Harshman New Toast of Baltimore

NEW YORK (AP) — Four months ago Baltimore Manager Paul Richards appealed to Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, charging that the Chicago White Sox had handed him a lame-back pitcher when they traded Jack Harshman to the Orioles in December.

Today this same "crippled" hurler shares the distinction with New York's Bob Turley as the only American League pitchers with 5-0 won-lost records.

How come? Even Harshman can't answer that one.

"I wish I could give you a reasonable explanation," the 30-year-old southpaw said, "but I can't. I'm just as puzzled as anyone else. I guess I've just been lucky."

Lucky? In 36 innings, Harshman has permitted only 18 hits, allowed five runs for a spectacular 1.25 earned run average. He has struck out 22.

Doing Same Thing

"Honest," he said, "I'm not doing a thing differently from last year when I had my poorest season in four with Chicago (8-8). I haven't changed my delivery. I've added no new pitch, my control is not any better. I've walked 21 in 36 innings. That's a lot of walks. Besides, my back still hurts."

Harshman has a slipped disc. All winter, during spring training and during the first few weeks of this season, he was forced to wear a corset. It's only in his last two starts that he's able to pitch without some sort of brace.

Harshman was slated to hook up with Whitey Ford in a southpaw duel today in the hopes of ending the Yankee dominance over Baltimore. The Yankees have won six of seven from Baltimore, the last three shutout victories.

Umont Halts Dusting Bee

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Plate umpire Frank Umont stopped play in the fifth inning of Wednesday night's Chicago-Kansas City game and summoned Managers Al Lopez and Harry Craft.

"I want both pitchers to quit that type of pitching," he said sternly. "I won't tolerate it." Duke Maas of the Athletics had just dusted off Chicago's Bubba Phillips with a high, hard one. The inning before that, Dick Donovan of the Sox did the same to Bob Cerv.

Big Ed in Final Public Appearance

Champs Clash In Dallas Golf

DALLAS (AP)—Champions meet today in the top match of the Women's Southern golf tournament quarter-finals as Clifford Ann Creed, the college co-ed seeking her second straight title, clashes with Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore, the 1956 queen.

Of almost equal star billing will be the battle of Polly Riley of Fort Worth, five times champion of the tournament, and Frances Rich of Bainbridge, Ga., once Texas state titlist.

In other quarter-final matches Mrs. Maurice Glick, the Maryland state champion from Baltimore, plays Janice Phelps of Atlanta and Sherry Wheeler, 17-year-old high school girl of Glasgow, Ky., who produced the first big upset of the tournament, tackles Mrs. Mary Ann Reynolds of Albany, Ga., the Georgia state champion.

Riley in Struggle

Miss Wheeler Wednesday knocked down Marge Burns of Greensboro, N. C., the 1957 runner up who was rated with the top four here, 5 and 4.

Miss Creed, of Opelousas, La., and a student at Lamar Tech, whipped Mrs. W. K. Stripling of Fort Worth, 5 and 4.

Miss Riley had to struggle for a 2 and 1 triumph over Mrs. H. C. Riedel of Dallas. Miss Downey shot even par in taking out Mrs. J. H. Henderson of Alexandria, La., 5 and 4. Miss Rich downed Mary McCutcheon of Jasper, Ala., 5 and 4 while Mrs. Glick eased by Mrs. Robert Monsted of New Orleans, 2-up.

Miss Phelps defeated Mrs. Ernest Blanton of Enid, Okla., 3 and 2, while Mrs. Reynolds crushed Mrs. Grant Messinger of Dallas, 7 and 6.

Horace Stoneham professes contentment with San Francisco support of his Giants (which dipped under 6,000 a couple of days) . . . but could really click, according to our Coast scouts, if some of his stafflings would get off their duffs and promote the club in the vast suburbia and exurbia of the Bay area . . . a failing which also caused them to lose out in New York. . . .

Couldn't sprinter Dave Sime afford to give up his baseball ambitions because a group of Duke alums have guaranteed his way through med school? . . .

A dozen years ago there were a couple of earnest young men in a Carmelite seminary at Niagara Falls studying for the priesthood . . . both from the Pittsburgh area without a high school background in sports. . . . Diverted from their religious studies, however, they turned to athletics and became major leaguers in different arenas . . . still in Pittsburgh. . . . Jack Butler has no peer in pro football as a defensive back for the Steelers. Frank Thomas, of course, is the big weapon at bat for the surprising Pirates. . . .

In Milwaukee—and elsewhere—it's still "Lew Burdette" every time you pick up a paper or magazine . . . but the sardonic slinger of the championship Braves signs his autographs "Lou." . . . And in Oakland, across the Bay, it's simply "The Giants" . . . as if there were no San Francisco. . . .

Stiff-collared Stanford alumni were straight-backed when they heard their new grid coach carries the handle of Cactus Jack Curtice . . . prompting a campus writer to suggest it be changed to Eucalyptus Jack. . . .

Blackie Sherrod, the zippy new sports editor of the Dallas Times-Herald, found out quick whether the natives read him . . . went to Louisville for the Kentucky Derby and discovered a citizen who carried a Racing Form under one arm, and a Bible under the other . . . seeking a clue as to how Noah's Ark horses ran in flood, quoth Blackie . . . and promptly jammed the paper's switchboard with irate callers from the Bible belt. . . .

A poll of National Leaguers convinces you Robin Roberts is through . . . all he has left is control. . . .

Ty Cobb, visiting Seals Stadium, approached Willie Mays: "Bet you don't know who I am." . . . "Nope," shrugged Willie. . . . "Give you a clue," offered Cobb. "My first name is Ty" . . . "Ty?" Willie knotted his brow. "Ty who?" . . .

That's like the time the Dodgers' Don Zimmer, who doesn't shy from the ponies, said to roomie Don Drysdale, "C'mon, let's go out to Gulfstream." . . . and All-America boy Drysdale answered, "Aw, who wantsa go fishing?" . . .

Truman Gibson talks friendly-like about wanting to huddle with Patterson skipper Cus D'Amato . . . but the last time he was around crustaceous Constantine, only his heels showed . . . he took off while Cus was in a middle of a tirade directed against IBC hirelings Harry Markson and Billy Brown. . . .

The reason the grid Giants were able to nab All-Pro Lindon Crow from the Cards for practically nothing is that it was a question of Chicago trading the defensive back for a little something (Dick Nolan) or writing him off to retirement (he wouldn't play for the Cards). . . .

Between you'n'me, look for Texas' Eddie Southern to electrify the track world shortly, all the way from the sprints to the middle distances—"The greatest runner I've ever seen," says Payton Jordan, Stanford's shrewd track coach. . . .

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL McCLANE
Fishing Editor

The western fly fisherman really starts his season in June as far as mountain streams are concerned.

With good weather the big brown mayflies should be hatching in quantity. Trout lose their normal caution when the mayfly is on the water and dry fly fishing gets hot.

Many fly patterns have originated in western tackle shops.

Anglers throughout the country bring their favorite flies with them. So great is the range of patterns that it would be futile to try to list them all.

In the case of wet flies there is one noteworthy preference. Hair wings predominate, either bucktail or squirrel tail, usually on hooks size six or eight.

In dry flies any pattern in which the angler has confidence can be expected to work. Dry flies used most often are sizes 12 and 14, with a few of size 10.

Dry Flies Excel

In rougher streams, good floating qualities are a vital consideration. There is preference toward dry flies with built-in buoyancy such as the Irresistible, with clipped caribou hair for a body, or floaters with wings made from hollow hair from the body of a winter killed deer, such as the Oregon Caddis.

Visibility is important and this explains the popularity of upright winged dry flies of the Wulff type made with white hair wings. Flies dressed with brown and grizzly hackle combined are also excellent. Two favorites are the Adams and Multi-colored variant.

If you tie flies, its a good idea to get some northern white tail deer hair for those hair wing flies. The hair is usually long and fine and not brittle. Some deer tails, such as those from the Columbia blacktail and mule deer, have some white on them, but the hair is brittle and not durable.

Fast Track Due For Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP) — Silky Sullivan and other losers excused in the Kentucky Derby because of mud will find the Pimlico track condition no bar to winning the $100,000-added Preakness, according to today's weather outlook.

Except for a slight chance of showers on Friday, which wouldn't effect the track noticeably, there is no rain in sight before the 82nd Preakness goes off at 4:45 p. m. EST on Saturday. The track has been sunning out all week.

The footing for the mile and three-sixteenths classic for 3-year-olds has been a prevailing source of worry to the bulk of the prospective 11 starters.

The stunning 12th place finish of the loudly proclaimed Silky Sullivan in the Derby was attributed to dislike for the slop.

Apologies also were made in behalf of Noureddin, Jewel's Reward, Chance It Tony and Gone Fish' and they're all coming back in the Preakness for a true test.

They'll find Calumet's Tim Tam ready and waiting. He came from behind to whip Sunny Blue Farm's Lincoln Road by half a length in the Derby.

The seven colts from the Derby are expected to be joined by Ada L. Rice's Talent Show, Edward J. Potter's Plion, Powhatan Stable's Michore and Christiana Stable's Staysail in the Preakness entry box on Friday.

Fishermen in Israel, casting their nets off Caesarea, the city from which Paul of Tarsus sailed in chains to Rome, have been bringing up jugs, vases and other items which date back to 1500 B. C.

Boston Lodge Honors Robinson

BOSTON (AP) — World middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson will be honored Sunday by the B'Nai B'Rith sports lodge at its annual dinner.

Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics will accept the basketball award; Maurice Richard of Montreal and Jerry Toppazzin of Boston will receive hockey awards; jockey Milo Valenzuela will receive a racing award; Dr. Abram Sachar, president of Brandeis University, will receive the football award and 25 members of the Boston Red Sox will also be honored.

There are more than 7,000,000 pleasure boats now in use in the United States.

Frink, 1365th Photographic Group, Orlando AFB, Fla. for his participation in the military management improvement program. To Present Portions

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—The defense laid plans today to present portions of statements by Charles Starkweather describing fully the deaths of 10 persons he has admitted killing.

The sections are those the state deleted in offering into evidence two statements Starkweather, 19, signed after his capture in Wyoming last Jan. 29.

The prosecution presentation detailed only the events leading up to the actual slayings of nine of the 10 persons.

The other section related in full the murder of Robert Jensen, 17, Bennet, Neb., high school student, for whose death Starkweather is being tried.
